ROCKVILLE, Ind. (AP) — An unidentified twin-engine airplane crashed today in a heavily wooded area just north of Turkey Run State Park, state police reported.

There was no immediate indication whether the aircraft was private or commercial. The fate of its occupants was unknown.

The Federal Aviation Agency in Indianapolis said it had no word of any commercial airliner missing or overdue. But an FAA spokesman said the crash scene is in an area heavily traveled by southbound planes out of Chicago.

Capt. Joseph J. Turecky of the Air Force's 782nd Radar Squadron here said his base sent a 25-man ground search party to the scene. State police dispatched a helicopter from Indianapolis.

Nation's Goals Commission Urges Stronger Defense, Better Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's commission on national goals has outlined a program for America in the 1960s that would cost billions of dollars more of government spending.

This could mean a tax increase, the commission of 11 distinguished Americans concluded in a 30-page report made public by the White House Sunday. A copy was sent to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Specifically, the commission urged the nation to arm adequately no matter what the cost and to spend billions of dollars more on education, foreign aid, research and cities.

The national goals proposed by the commission also included the elimination of racial segregation, the reduction of unemployment, and a foreign policy that preserves the United Nations while remaining ready to negotiate with the Soviet Union on any reasonable basis.

The commission and its report stem from President Eisenhower's State of the Union message almost two years ago. In it, the President said the nation should define its national purpose and goals.

The report now serves as a legacy from the Eisenhower administration to the incoming Kennedy administration. In several respects, the recommendations resemble the "New Frontiers" program outlined by Kennedy in his campaign.

Eisenhower created the commission last January, naming Dr. Henry M. Wriston as chairman. Dr. Wriston is president-emeritus of Brown University and president of the American Assembly, an educational institution.

Members of the commission did not agree on all goals. Among them, AFL-CIO President George Meany dissented from several recommendations.

Meany added a general statement that said:

"The commission's report marches right up to the issues, always faces them boldly, then often turns away, without making the necessary, if sometimes unpopular, proposals for attaining the very goals the commission believes necessary."

On the question of racial and religious discrimination, the commission said racial segregation should be wiped out by 1970 and barriers in education, voting, housing and other fields should be sharply lowered by that date.

In the field of defense, the commission said the United States should maintain and strengthen the military alliances of the free world. But, the commission continued, nuclear disarmament should be the ultimate goal.

Foreign aid, the report said, should be increased and shared by all major free nations. By 1965, the commission recommended, the United States should contribute $5 billion or $5.5 billion a year in foreign aid. It has averaged $3.4 billion in recent years.

In education, the commission proposed outright federal grants to states having low per capita income. Other states would match federal funds with their own money.

Tax revision also was proposed. The commission said this would include more liberal depreciation allowances for industry and the closing of tax loopholes.

In economics, the commission said the present rate of unemployment—6.4 per cent—was too high. It should be kept below 4 per cent, the report said.

The commission also said that studies have indicated that national output can be increased by 3.4 to 5 per cent a year "without extraordinary stimulating measures."

Contracts With IBOP To Cover Employes Of Wellsville Firms

Labor and management reached agreement Saturday night at Cleveland on a new two-year working agreement affecting six chinaware plants which provides for employer contributions to a health and welfare plan and a pension plan, an additional paid holiday and a 3-cent hourly pay boost starting in December 1961.

The pact was signed by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters with the Sterling China Co. and the Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville; the Walker China Co. of Bedford, the Buffalo China Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., the Mayer China Co. of Beaver Falls and the Jackson China Co. of Falls Creek, Pa.

It affects an estimated 1,800 IBOP members in the six plants.

Manufacturers agreed to assume the cost of a health and welfare program by contributing $9.67 per month per employe.

Management also will make a contribution for the start of a pension plan for employes. They will contribute 1½ cents per dozen of ware shipped, beginning Jan. 1.

Thanksgiving was added to the list of paid holidays, bringing the total to 6. Paid holidays at present are Christmas, New Year's Day, Memorial Day, July 4 and Labor Day.

Labor and management agreed to share the cost of bringing in mutually agreeable consultants to study plant operations with a view to improving plant efficiency.

A management spokesman said the new health and welfare program will provide for hospitalization insurance for workers. Mention was made of the possibility the coverage could be broadened to include an employe's family, with the worker paying the additional cost.

The agreement was reached at the Sheraton-Cleveland Hotel, where the meeting opened last Monday. The conference continued through Wednesday, then adjourned for the Thanksgiving holiday. It reconvened Friday.

A management spokesman said he was unable to estimate the total cost per employe hour for the new fringe benefits. The two-year agreement expires Dec. 1, 1962.

No details have been worked out on the new pension plan, he add-

White Pupils Transfer In New Orleans

Students Boycott 2 Integrated Schools In New Opposition

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — White students from two nearly integrated public schools flocked to nearby segregated schools today in a boycott nearly 100 per cent complete.

Three Negro girls entered McDonogh No. 19—one of the two integrated schools — at 8:45 a.m. (CST) today. One woman among the 100 or so white spectators yelled:

"You've got the whole school to yourself now."

The city's public schools reopened after a week's vacation due to a teachers' convention. But there appeared to be no letup in objections to school integration as ordered by a federal judge.

President Armand Duvio of the education cooperative at the William Frantz school — where one Negro girl attends the first grade —said buses took 104 Frantz students to schools in neighboring St. Barnard Parish (county).

The city tensely waited for the ruling of a three-judge federal tribunal, considering a request to suspend temporarily the integration order pending the settlement of state and federal differences. Their opinion was expected today.

There were no incidents at either school.

Divio said collections for private schools for Frantz and McDonogh No. 19 students over the weekend totaled "a little over $2,000."

U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright ordered integration of first grades Nov. 14.

The panel considering the school board's petition includes Judge Richard T. Rives, chief judge of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, U.S. Dist. Judge J. Herbert Christenberg, and Wright.

The panel also had before it a state suit asking that all school integration orders be tossed out, and a federal petition that the state be permanently restrained from interfering with public school administration.

New Riots Hit Capital Area In Venezuela

President Orders Emergency Action To Deal With Unrest

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Rioting broke out anew in several places throughout this capital city today. Three persons have been killed and 100 wounded in three previous days of rioting.

Demonstrators clashed with police this morning along the Avenida Sucre which runs through Catia, a crowded workers' housing district in the western part of the city. This was the area where U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon was attacked during his visit to Caracas in 1958.

Police reported groups carrying bottled gasoline bombs were assembling at Plaza Carabobo on the eastern edge of the downtown business district.

The Cabinet of President Romulo Betancourt was forced into emergency session to deal with the political and economic unrest which sparked the rioting, carried on mainly by the militant left. National Guardsmen patrolled the city.

The outburst was attributed to Betancourt's left-wing opponents, some of them recently defected from his moderate Socialist coalition to attack him in anti-American tones similar to the line of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Despite Betancourt's two-years in power trying to spread the wealth of this oil-rich country more evenly, there was widespread pessimism about the outlook in this new crisis.

High schools and normal schools were closed today for the second time in a month.

Betancourt asked Ramon J. Velasquez, secretary-general of the presidency and one of his closest advisers, to take over the education ministry in the absence of its chief, Rafael Pizani, who is in the United States for medical treatment.

The moderate government forces of Betancourt's Democratic Action party and the Christian Socialists now are opposed by the left-wing Democratic Republican Union (URD), which quit the government coalition 10 days ago, as well as Communists and the Movement of the Revolutionary Left, a Marxist offshoot of Betancourt's party.

Betancourt called on troops to quell last month's riots, and this was one reason the URD quit the coalition. Its leaders called the move "repression."

Elsewhere in the Caribbean, unrest was spotted in Haiti and Colombia.

Ancient Bones Found On Site Near Vanport

Another important archeological find — the complete skeleton of a young male from the late pre-historic culture — was made Sunday at a site below Vanport, near Ohio View, along the Ohio River.

The skeleton, believed to be 3,500 to 7,000 years old, was uncovered by members of Beaver Valley Chapter 7, Pennsylvania Archeological Society.

Emil Alam of Aliquippa is directing the operation. He said the members started excavating the site last fall. Since then, a total of 17 burials have been unearthed. He said that the entire village is being charted and will be reconstructed when the excavating is completed.

The skeleton found yesterday was uncovered with strips of bark, indicating a formal burial. Alam said this is only the second such burial ever found in this area. He said the body had been placed in a "flexed" position in a oval pit about 52 inches around. It was 34 inches under the surface.

He said the skeleton of the adult found last week had two arrow points inside it. The two adolescents also showed signs of having died violently.

Alam said the remains will be sent to the Carnegie Museum at Pittsburgh for study. He said diggers also have been finding refuse pits containing the bones of wolf, bear, elk and other animals long extinct in this area.

Charles Cole of Beaver found a bowl last winter that had a "Mississippi" influence which was very unusual, he said. Alam said Gene Hicks and Ronald Charlton of East Palestine have aided in the digging at times.

The site may be destroyed in the next four years because of possible sand and gravel operations. The area is stratified, which means the deeper the excavation, the older the remains that are found.

Beaver Grand Jurors Will Hear 55 Charges

BEAVER — Judge Morgan Sohn appointed Eugene Shields of New Brighton as foreman of the Beaver County Grand Jury, which convened today to hear 55 cases.

There are some 21 members of the Grand Jury. Three area cases are those of Edgar V. Hull of East Liverpool, charged with operating a car while intoxicated; Charles Dickey of Midland, a liquor violation, and Cassie Maze of Smiths Ferry, accused of pointing a deadly weapon.

Traffic	430
Fires	49
Miscellaneous	109
Total	588

By The Associated Press

Violent accidents claimed a staggering toll of lives over the extended Thanksgiving holiday weekend and, as expected, traffic deaths led the grim total.

The final figures from across the nation were not complete. But with the count ended at midnight (local time) Sunday, covering a period of 102 hours from 6 p.m. Wednesday, the latest figures showed: 430 killed in traffic accidents; 49 perished in fires and 109 lost their lives in miscellaneous type accidents. The over-all total was 588, an average of nearly six per hour.

Highway deaths took a sharp rise in the final hours of the four-day holiday as highways were jammed with Sunday drivers and other thousands returning home from holiday trips. Generally fair weather prevailed in most of the country but rain, snow and fog added to the driving hazards in some sections.

Belated reports may boost the traffic death toll above the 445 killed on the highways during last year's four-day Thanksgiving holiday weekend. However, this year's toll in fires and other kinds of accidents apparently will run below last year's 70 fire deaths and 135 in miscellaneous mishaps.

This year's traffic death toll was close to the 433 total reported in an Associated Press survey covering the 102-hour period between 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, and midnight Sunday, Nov. 13. The AP's count also showed 69 fire deaths and 144 in other accidents for an over-all total of 646.

No pre-holiday estimate of the traffic deaths was made by the National Safety Council, which said travel on the Thanksgiving weekend is not as heavy as on other major holidays during the year. However, the NSC did estimate that 460 persons could die on the highways during a four-day weekend at this time of year.

The record death toll for a four-day holiday period is 884, set in the Christmas period of 1956. Included were 707 deaths on the highways.

California led the nation in traffic fatalities over the weekend, with at least 50. Five other states, Michigan, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas, each reported 20 or more traffic deaths.

Weighs Appointments

Kennedy Works On Policy Course

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy, reporting progress on shaping his new administration, keeps digging today at the job of filling high level positions and charting a policy course.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, promised what he called a "hard news" announcement during the day but would provide no clue as to the nature of it.

Salinger did indicate the announcement would be something other than the president-elect's choice of a budget director, expected to be disclosed this week.

The press secretary repeated that while Kennedy is consulting daily with advisers regarding the picking of his Cabinet, disclosure of the first selections probably won't come before next week.

In between visits to the hospital to see his wife and newborn son, the president-elect had a busy weekend preparing to take over direction of the government Jan. 20.

He had a dinner conference at his Georgetown home Sunday night with Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson. Kennedy reported afterward that he has been making progress planning the new Democratic regime, and added that Johnson is in agreement on developments to date.

Johnson, accompanied to dinner by his wife and two daughters, had just returned from a North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris. He was chairman of the U. S. delegation. He also conferred with French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The president-elect also conferred briefly with his brother Robert Kennedy who served as his campaign manager. Just back from a vacation in Mexico, Robert had his first meeting with the president-to-be since Nov. 11.

Cuba Disillusioned

Castro May Be Unseated Through Economic Crisis

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro's Cuba is filled with disillusionment and dread. Yet the prospect of an armed overthrow of his Communist-oriented regime today appears more distant than ever.

Many Cubans, both big and little, predict a relatively early end to Castro's revolutionary government. But most agree the end will come through economic collapse, rather than by an invasion or an uprising from within.

Cubans talk openly and privately against his rule, from Havana eastward to Santiago, Cuba's second largest city and capital of Oriente province, where the Castro revolution was born.

Most complaints are based on two factors — economic hardship and communism.

In Santiago, a longshoreman whose union had just been told by the government that workers no longer will receive overtime pay, told this correspondent:

"We have been asked to pull in our belts, to work more and eat less. We can do that, but I won't work for the communists and my companions won't either."

A businessman who has lived in Santiago all his life and now watches militiamen giving orders in the establishment he built, declared:

"You could expect people of my class to oppose Castro and his regime even though I and many like me helped it grow. But here in Santiago it is the little people who are feeling the pressure as much or more than we are.

"I give Castro six months more. Then not even his Communist-armed militia and his army of informants can control a hungry people."

A sugar man, who looked back over his shoulder before he spoke, predicted that not even an excellent growing season would save Castro from trouble when the sugar harvest begins in December.

"There is the problem of when to sell sugar once it is harvested and milled," he said. "But an even bigger problem is getting the harvest in. And I don't think Castro's appointees can do it.

Only a few hundred desperate men are carrying on the counter-revolutionary struggle in the Sierra Maestra, the mountains where Castro launched his revolution. Yet when Castro visited Santiago recently to address the

GOP Minority Holds Fate Of 'Benefits' Bill

Legislature Meets To Act On DiSalle's Aid-To-Jobless Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Minority Republicans went into the special session of the Ohio legislature with the fate of an unemployment benefit extender bill placed in their laps.

The special session, called by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle with the backing of the Democratic members of the General Assembly, convened at 11 a.m.

DiSalle called the special session to consider his proposal for temporary extension of maximum unemployment payments from 26 to 39 weeks, because, DiSalle contended, of the increasing number of Ohioans out of work.

Democrats have a majority in both houses, but Republican backing is needed if the special legislation is to get the required two-thirds vote for enactment. The proposal would permit unemploy-

Sunken Barge Will Be Raised

Carrier Hits Object Near Cumberland

A barge loaded with about 900 tons of coal sank in the Ohio River shortly after midnight Saturday downstream from Dam No. 9 at New Cumberland.

The barge apparently struck a submerged obstacle and sank near the middle of the channel, across from Empire. Part of the coal load still is visible today.

The barge will be raised within a few days. The coal will be removed with a clam shell shovel into another barge and the sunken barge then may be lifted by river machinery.

Meanwhile, Dam 9 at New Cumberland ended 46 years of operation this morning at 8. Locking operations were suspended for 72 hours while the lock chamber is cleaned by workmen.

River craft will be locked through when the cleaning job is completed. Workmen then will begin removing the wickets.

Dam 9 will be razed, along with two other area wicket-type dams, with the near completion of the Stratton "super dam." Dam 8 at Newell went out of service several weeks ago. Dam 7 at Midland will be abandoned about May.

Halfway Mark Now Reached In Fund Drive

Contributions of $41,000 toward a goal of $82,368 were reported today by William A. Black, campaign chairman for the Community Fund drive.

More than half of the $41,000 is in cash, the balance in pledges to be fulfilled in the coming year.

Black urged all volunteer workers in each of the campaign's divisions to turn in their reports and contributions as quickly as possible at headquarters in the YMCA building.

"We wish to emphasize, too," he said, "that no one need make a cash gift at this time —particularly those who have been affected by work layoffs. A pledge, payable next year, in any installment plan of the donor's choice, is all that is needed now. Through such pledges the continuance of the six agencies maintained through Community Fund will be assured. We sincerely hope that every resident recognizes the vital need for the services of each—the YMCA, Boy and Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army, the Recreation Council and the USO—and gives generous support."

Of the to.. thus far contributed, the largest sum —about $18,000—

He said the skeleton of the adult found last week had two arrow points inside it. The two adolescents also showed signs of having died violently.

Alam said the remains will be sent to the Carnegie Museum at Pittsburgh for study. He said diggers also have been finding refuse pits containing the bones of wolf, bear, elk and other animals long extinct in this area.

Charles Cole of Beaver found a bowl last winter that had a "Mississippi" influence which was very unusual, he said. Alam said Gene Hicks and Ronald Charlton of East Palestine have aided in the digging at times.

The site may be destroyed in the next four years because of possible sand and gravel operations. The area is stratified, which means the deeper the excavation, the older the remains that are found.

Beaver Grand Jurors Will Hear 55 Charges

BEAVER — Judge Morgan Sohn appointed Eugene Shields of New Brighton as foreman of the Beaver County Grand Jury, which convened today to hear 55 cases.

There are some 21 members of the Grand Jury. Three area cases are those of Edgar V. Hull of East Liverpool, charged with operating a car while intoxicated; Charles Dickey of Midland, a liquor violation, and Cassie Maze of Smiths Ferry, accused of pointing a deadly weapon.

Traffic	430
Fires	49
Miscellaneous	109

By The Associated Press

Violent accidents claimed a staggering toll of lives over the extended Thanksgiving holiday weekend and, as expected, traffic deaths led the grim total.

The final figures from across the nation were not complete. But with the count ended at midnight (local time) Sunday, covering a period of 102 hours from 6 p.m. Wednesday, the latest figures showed: 430 killed in traffic accidents; 49 perished in fires and 109 lost their lives in miscellaneous type accidents. The over-all total was 588, an average of nearly six per hour.

Highway deaths took a sharp rise in the final hours of the four-day holiday as highways were jammed with Sunday drivers and other thousands returning home from holiday trips. Generally fair weather prevailed in most of the country but rain, snow and fog added to the driving hazards in some sections.

Belated reports may boost the traffic death toll above the 445 killed on the highways during last year's four-day Thanksgiving holiday weekend. However, this year's toll in fires and other kinds of accidents apparently will run below last year's 70 fire deaths and 135 in miscellaneous mishaps.

This year's traffic death toll was close to the 433 total reported in an Associated Press survey covering the 102-hour period between 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, and midnight Sunday, Nov. 13. The AP's count also showed 69 fire deaths and 144 in other accidents for an over-all total of 646.

No pre-holiday estimate of the traffic deaths was made by the National Safety Council, which said travel on the Thanksgiving weekend is not as heavy as on other major holidays during the year. However, the NSC did estimate that 460 persons could die on the highways during a four-day weekend at this time of year.

The record death toll for a four-day holiday period is 884, set in the Christmas period of 1956. Included were 707 deaths on the highways.

California led the nation in traffic fatalities over the weekend, with at least 50. Five other states, Michigan, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas, each reported 20 or more traffic deaths.

Weighs Appointments

Kennedy Works On Policy Course

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy, reporting progress on shaping his new administration, keeps digging today at the job of filling high level positions and charting a policy course.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, promised what he called a "hard news" announcement during the day but would provide no clue as to the nature of it.

Salinger did indicate the announcement would be something other than the president-elect's choice of a budget director, expected to be disclosed this week.

The press secretary repeated that while Kennedy is consulting daily with advisers regarding the picking of his Cabinet, disclosure of the first selections probably won't come before next week.

In between visits to the hospital to see his wife and newborn son, the president-elect had a busy weekend preparing to take over direction of the government Jan. 20.

He had a dinner conference at his Georgetown home Sunday night with Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson. Kennedy reported afterward that he has been making progress planning the new Democratic regime, and added that Johnson is in agreement on developments to date.

Johnson, accompanied to dinner by his wife and two daughters, had just returned from a North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris. He was chairman of the U. S. delegation. He also conferred with French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The president-elect also conferred briefly with his brother Robert Kennedy who served as his campaign manager. Just back from a vacation in Mexico, Robert had his first meeting with the president-to-be since Nov. 11.

Cuba Disillusioned

Castro May Be Unseated Through Economic Crisis

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro's Cuba is filled with disillusionment and dread. Yet the prospect of an armed overthrow of his Communist-oriented regime today appears more distant than ever.

Many Cubans, both big and little, predict a relatively early end to Castro's revolutionary government. But most agree the end will come through economic collapse, rather than by an invasion or an uprising from within.

Cubans talk openly and privately against his rule, from Havana eastward to Santiago, Cuba's second largest city and capital of Oriente province, where the Castro revolution was born.

Most complaints are based on two factors — economic hardship and communism.

In Santiago, a longshoreman whose union had just been told by the government that workers no longer will receive overtime pay, told this correspondent:

"We have been asked to pull in our belts, to work more and eat less. We can do that, but I won't work for the communists and my companions won't either."

A businessman who has lived in Santiago all his life and now watches militiamen giving orders in the establishment he built, declared:

"You could expect people of my class to oppose Castro and his regime even though I and many like me helped it grow. But here in Santiago it is the little people who are feeling the pressure as much or more than we are.

"I give Castro six months more. Then not even his Communist-armed militia and his army of informants can control a hungry people."

A sugar man, who looked back over his shoulder before he spoke, predicted that not even an excellent growing season would save Castro from trouble when the sugar harvest begins in December.

"There is the problem of when to sell sugar once it is harvested and milled," he said. "But an even bigger problem is getting the harvest in. And I don't think Castro's appointees can do it.

Only a few hundred desperate men are carrying on the counter-revolutionary struggle in the Sierra Maestra, the mountains where Castro launched his revolution. Yet when Castro visited Santiago recently to address the

GOP Minority Holds Fate Of 'Benefits' Bill

Legislature Meets To Act On DiSalle's Aid-To-Jobless Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Minority Republicans went into the special session of the Ohio legislature with the fate of an unemployment benefit extender bill placed in their laps.

The special session, called by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle with the backing of the Democratic members of the General Assembly, convened at 11 a.m.

DiSalle called the special session to consider his proposal for temporary extension of maximum unemployment payments from 26 to 39 weeks, because, DiSalle contended, of the increasing number of Ohioans out of work.

Democrats have a majority in both houses, but Republican backing is needed if the special legislation is to get the required two-thirds vote for enactment. The proposal would permit unemploy-

Sunken Barge Will Be Raised

Carrier Hits Object Near Cumberland

A barge loaded with about 900 tons of coal sank in the Ohio River shortly after midnight Saturday downstream from Dam No. 9 at New Cumberland.

The barge apparently struck a submerged obstacle and sank near the middle of the channel, across from Empire. Part of the coal load still is visible today.

The barge will be raised within a few days. The coal will be removed with a clam shell shovel into another barge and the sunken barge then may be lifted by river machinery.

Meanwhile, Dam 9 at New Cumberland ended 46 years of operation this morning at 8. Locking operations were suspended for 72 hours while the lock chamber is cleaned by workmen.

River craft will be locked through when the cleaning job is completed. Workmen then will begin removing the wickets.

Dam 9 will be razed, along with two other area wicket-type dams, with the near completion of the Stratton "super dam." Dam 8 at Newell went out of service several weeks ago. Dam 7 at Midland will be abandoned about May.

Halfway Mark Now Reached In Fund Drive

Contributions of $41,000 toward a goal of $82,368 were reported today by William A. Black, campaign chairman for the Community Fund drive.

More than half of the $41,000 is in cash, the balance in pledges to be fulfilled in the coming year.

Black urged all volunteer workers in each of the campaign's divisions to turn in their reports and contributions as quickly as possible at headquarters in the YMCA building.

"We wish to emphasize, too," he said, "that no one need make a cash gift at this time —particularly those who have been affected by work layoffs. A pledge, payable next year, in any installment plan of the donor's choice, is all that is needed now. Through such pledges the continuance of the six agencies maintained through Community Fund will be assured. We sincerely hope that every resident recognizes the vital need for the services of each—the YMCA, Boy and Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army, the Recreation Council and the USO—and gives generous support."

Of the to. thus far contributed, the largest sum —about $18,000—

Businessmen, farmers and workers alike appear resigned to waiting until such time as an avalanche of hungry people is ready to come crashing down on the Castro regime.

"It will be slow, but it will come," said a Santiago worker. "We can wait until more people are hungry."

Castro Expects Softer Policy From Kennedy

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro hinted today he expects a softer policy toward Cuba when John F. Kennedy becomes president. The bearded prime minister's rambling speech was punctuated by noise bombs exploding in an unprecedented show of force by his enemies within Cuba.

In a 2½-hour speech at Havana University, Castro also accused Roman Catholic priests of taking money from sugar companies to preach against his revolution and suggested a new policy for the state-run sugar industry may be in the works. It may be aimed at flooding world markets and eventually giving Cuba more control over prices.

Two small noise bombs went off while Castro spoke. The second brought him to his angriest pitch. Shouts of "paredon" (to the execution wall) went up from the audience.

"Don't worry. Don't worry," Castro admonished the crowd. "Those bombs are not set off by peasants, by the humble. They are set off by those who kneel before foreign interests, by those who would like to see bloodshed in the country."

Despite heavy police concentrations around the university, two bombs also went off while Castro was waiting to speak.

Altogether 19 explosions were counted throughout the city and its suburbs as Castro's opposition staged its biggest noise bombing since Castro gained power almost two years ago. Sporadic bombings have become an almost nightly occurrence in Havana.

Businessmen, farmers and workers alike appear resigned to waiting until such time as an avalanche of hungry people is ready to come crashing down on the Castro regime.

"It will be slow, but it will come," said a Santiago worker. "We can wait until more people are hungry."

Castro Expects Softer Policy From Kennedy

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro hinted today he expects a softer policy toward Cuba when John F. Kennedy becomes president. The bearded prime minister's rambling speech was punctuated by noise bombs exploding in an unprecedented show of force by his enemies within Cuba.

In a 2½-hour speech at Havana University, Castro also accused Roman Catholic priests of taking money from sugar companies to preach against his revolution and suggested a new policy for the state-run sugar industry may be in the works. It may be aimed at flooding world markets and eventually giving Cuba more control over prices.

Two small noise bombs went off while Castro spoke. The second brought him to his angriest pitch. Shouts of "paredon" (to the execution wall) went up from the audience.

"Don't worry. Don't worry," Castro admonished the crowd. "Those bombs are not set off by peasants, by the humble. They are set off by those who kneel before foreign interests, by those who would like to see bloodshed in the country."

Despite heavy police concentrations around the university, two bombs also went off while Castro was waiting to speak.

Altogether 19 explosions were counted throughout the city and its suburbs as Castro's opposition staged its biggest noise bombing since Castro gained power almost two years ago. Sporadic bombings have become an almost nightly occurrence in Havana.

Talk Alone Does Not Win Elections

One of several explanations Gov. DiSalle has offered for Democratic statewide defeats in the Nov. 8 election is his contention that Republicans were better financed.

This is a familiar Democratic refrain which can be debated if anyone wants to get down to specifics. So Courtney Burton, chairman of Ohio Republican Finance Committee, might have been expected to take exception to the governor's remarks when he spoke to county GOP officials the other day.

But Mr. Burton pulled a switch. He indicated that he considered Gov. DiSalle's statements a tribute to the fine job Republicans did this year in backing up their party loyalty with money.

Mr. Burton said he believes both parties should be solvent, to preserve the kind of democracy practiced in this country. Contributions to political parties dedicated to the promotion of the democratic process are as worthy as contributions to charitable institutions, Mr. Burton concluded.

THIS ATTITUDE is remarkable for its rarity, but Mr. Burton's point was that it should not be unusual. Political organizations too often treat their financial affairs as a necessary evil, about which it is best to say as little as possible.

But it is no disgrace to back up convictions with something tangible. Few other organized institutions in our society are expected to act as if they don't need money to get along.

A man who has deep convictions about the political system under which he lives certainly should not be embarrassed to contribute a small part of his material assets to the party he thinks best expresses those convictions.

The efforts of recent years to organize bipartisan campaigns to provide dollars for the two political parties are well-intentioned, but they are impractical. That is why they are seldom heard of after the initial kickoff.

Few people can be prevailed upon to part with their cash in a vague sense of duty to either or both political parties. They have to be asked to kick in to something in which they have put their hearts.

THE SUCCESS of the two-party system depends upon the sincerity with which the parties' members give allegiance to the party of their choice.

The success of each party in applying its political principles at the level of practice depends in part on its members' interest in keeping the party in healthy financial condition.

When all of the sources of Democratic party funds are considered, it is doubtful that Gov. DiSalle is right in saying the Republicans are better fixed financially.

But even if it were true, it would be, as Mr. Burton said, a tribute, not an insult.

Extended Unemployment Compensation

Gov. DiSalle's call for a special session of the General Assembly to consider a 13-week extension of unemployment compensation gives legislators, unemployed workers, politicians and Ohioans in general some out-of-the-ordinary decisions to make.

First and foremost is the decision that emergency compensation is justified. Unemployment is in excess of 172,000, upward of 6 per cent of the state's work force. That is the "trigger point" generally believed to be the emergency level of unemployment.

Further justification for extension of payments is the secondary purpose of unemployment compensation, which is to maintain minimum buying power when joblessness builds up.

Ohio business needs an influx of buying power not only for the sustaining needs of unemployed breadwinners who have used up their 26 weeks of payments, or are about to use them, but for the special needs associated with Christmas.

FOR THESE TWO reasons there is unlikely to be strong opposition to an emergency extension of 13 weeks of BUC payments—from 26 to 39. This was done in mid-1958, to deal with the employment slump that occurred that year. The emergency extension expired at the end of 1958.

In 1959 an attempt was made to extend the benefit period permanently. It was our position at that time that no permanent extension was justified as long as emergency extensions could be made whenever needed.

It is our position now that another emergency extension is needed.

There is a mild political problem involved in the extension—the fact that the move is being proposed and must be acted on when the General Assembly has a Democratic majority that was wiped out in the Nov. 8 election.

The Democratic majorities in the House and Senate, even if they vote solidly, must recruit Republican help to put over an emergency extension. Republicans could block the emergency proposal this year and take it up in January, when the General Assembly will convene with their party in control.

In that event, Republicans could claim the credit for helping Ohio's unemployed. This way, Democrats most assuredly will claim credit.

The only way to sidestep credit-giving and credit-taking would be for members of both parties to support the emergency proposal and depend on Ohio workers to remember this bipartisan support in the future.

THAT WOULD BE the wisest course—to take the emergency extension out of partisan politics by giving it bipartisan backing.

This is the time to give the law a chance to work the way it must be made to work whenever an emergency arises.

The Best News There Is

They say a baby is born in the United States every 10½ seconds. That's how the Census Bureau keeps track of population growth — by multiplication.

A birth rate of more than 350 babies an hour 24 hours a day makes any one baby seem inconsequential. But that is an interesting point about babies.

There are no inconsequential babies. The birth of a baby is always the best news there is—an affirmation of life going on, of hope springing eternal and the best being yet to come.

That's the way we feel about the baby just born to the John F. Kennedys of Massachusetts and soon to be of the White House in Washington. This namesake of a father who has apparently been elected president of the United States in a close election is a consequential baby, plus.

He and his sister will be the most photographed children in the United States. The thought of a crib in the White House after Jan. 20 and of a little girl playing under the trees when the weather turns nice next spring is enough to make the coldest heart melt a little.

The new father has the congratulations of all of us. Fatherhood is a purely nonpartisan matter and congratulations are always in order. And Mrs. Kennedy has congratulations, too. As we older fathers like to point out, there's no law against congratulating new mothers if it will make them feel good.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

There's comedy in the inclusion of Sophie Tucker among entertainers allegedly performing in New York night-clubs without a license. Police say the purpose of permit is to keep a check on possible crime records.

Only crimes Sophie is guilty of are: (1) Resisting Father Time; (2) carrying an overload of sequins; (3) violating the quiet zone laws through vocal gusto.

She is in her 70's, has been performing for half a century and has had a career sufficient to protect her from "Lady, lemme see your papers just to make sure you didn't figure in the Lizzie Borden hatchet case, the shooting of Dan McGrew or the disappearance of Judge Crater."

Could be, however, that Sophie, keeps her girlish vitality so well, that the police might confuse her with some kid performer who has just hit Manhattan and has not yet been definitely identified.

Sophie is accused only of failing to carry her 1960 license, which the police seem to rate with a failure to carry current auto plates, front and rear.

Few people knew that entertainers were classified as folks who had to carry licenses, front and rear, so to speak. Discovery that a comedian can't legally crack jokes without a card in niteries, and that a singer is not supposed to clear her throat without the "necessary papers" is surprising.

Suppose a "comic" once got tangled up with the law. Is he more dangerous making people happy as a night-club entertainer than if he had taken up a career in plumbing, sign painting or circus clowning?

There are lads who are not bargains as comedians but no critics have given them bad notices because a permit showed they had once put a slug in a subway turnstile.

(Listening to some of the routines could lead to belief they were auditioning for a criminal record.)

There are cabaret performers who, despite the fact they have never been convicted of a crime, COULD BE seeking a conviction on the basis of their gags. But most of them are making the same fight for a living that the rest of us make as law-abiding folks, and don't rate gendarmes digging into their past lives.

If they have to carry special permits why not chefs, pastry cooks, waiters, customers who always want to play the snare drum and all toast-masters trying to inject terrible jokes into testimonial banquets.

PRESIDENT-ELECT KENNEDY, it develops, is a golfer. Despite the fact that there is no game in which so many Americans lose so much prestige on so many fairways.

The "pioneer life," we take it, will be acceptable with a golf bag, and those "new frontiers" will not be without direction flags.

Jimmy Hoffa is resting as comfortably as could be expected after the report Robert Kennedy, the senator's brother, may be named attorney general of the U.S.A.

'Arm In Arm'

'Minutemen' Stir Clash In Pentagon

By Bem Price

WASHINGTON

A quiet but mounting revolt is being watched by Air Force officers against the notion that war can be deterred simply by aiming a small number of missiles at an enemy's population centers.

A key factor in this revolt is the development of the 6,000-mile-range Minuteman missile, a true push-button weapon designed for mass production.

The Minuteman, so the Air Force believes, will make it possible to abandon the theory of "deterrence by terror."

In the Air Forces' opinion the use of terror, a threat implying mass slaughter of civilians by the military, is effective only so long as the enemy's civil and military defenses are weak, but that it will not deter a well-prepared army.

CLEARLY, the Air Force believes the Soviet Union is no longer susceptible to the terror deterrent.

With the weapon, which is to be flight tested — two years ahead of schedule —at Cape Canaveral, Fla., next month, the Air Force believes the United States can regain clear military supremacy for the West.

Minutemen can be produced in such numbers, says the Air Force, that it could knock out much of Russia's nuclear missile potential with a saturation attack aimed at military zones.

Hours of background briefings by Air Force officers on the role of the Minuteman in national defense have shed considerable light on what may become a rip-snorting controversy between the services in the new administration.

Of necessity the briefings went to the heart of Air Force strategic beliefs. All the spokesmen presented the official Air Force viewpoint, but none spoke for personal attribution.

In any case, these beliefs may well mark the most significant return to the first principles of warfare made public by military planners since the beginning of the missile age.

IN LECTURES to its own officers, the Air Force maintains that to destroy enemy cities without first destroying his military striking force is strategically and morally wrong.

The Air Force contends that to make population centers prime targets for attack would amount to an expenditure of the United States' major force against noncital targets, leaving the enemy fully armed and with this nation at its mercy.

Thus, the Air Force has returned to an ancient military principle: An armed force exists to destroy the enemys' armed force.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, has said repeatedly in speeches:

"The concept of deterrence as interpreted by some is merely the possession of military strength which could inflict severe and perhaps indiscriminate punishment upon an enemy. Apparently they disregard the need for military strength to defeat him. . . .I cannot agree with it. If deterrence fails and a nation must fight, it must have the strength to win."

In brief, the Air Force believes an enemy can be deterred from attack or beaten if he ignores the odds, only by the existence of clear military superiority.

If both the United States and Soviet Union have roughtly equal missile forces, the Air Force contends, the Russians might be tempted to nibble away at the free world, gambling that the United States would not risk nuclear war for the sake of Allies.

THE AIR FORCE also believes the bulk of the deterrent forces should be based in this nation where the enemy could not destroy them one by one.

This latter argument is directed against the placing of our major strategic reliance on the Navy's missile-launching Polaris submarine force.

Navy officers have argued dispersion of missiles at sea in submarines would insure their survival while drawing fire away from continental United States. Placing a missile striking force inside the country, they claim, simply invites domestic attack.

The Air Force raises this question: Would the United States go to war if the Russians sank one of our missile submarines? Two: Three? How far would the United States permit the Russians to go if the Soviets began a war of attrition against our submerged launching pads?

To this argument, Adm. W. F. Raborn, boss of the Navy Polaris program, said before Congress last July, "If we lose one ship we are going to do something. . . .It is barely possible we could have a limited war at sea. It is possible that it would never extend to the United States, but the enemy would lose that war."

Adm. Arleigh Budks, chief of naval operations, said it would be impossible to detect and destroy all Polaris subs since they would be mixed in with atomic-powered attack submarines.

* * *

He also said he could foresee the day when missiles would have such extreme accuracy they would be able to score hits so close to underground launching sites, such as the Air Force has in mind for Minuteman, that the sites would be destroyed.

THE NAVY'S chief also noted that mobile Minuteman would have to have tracks —and tracks can be destroyed. On the other hand, he noted, a Polaris submarine will operate in a section of the ocean as large as Texas.

Invulnerability to attack is essential to an American missile force because the United States has said it would never attack first.

The Air Force argues this invulnerability can be obtained with literally thousands of Minuteman missiles ready to fire in "hardened" underground launching tubes, or silos. With such numbers dispersed across the country, a knockout attack by Russia would be virtually impossible.

At this point the question arises: Who is going to be around after an attack to care whether the United States or Russia wins?

The Air Force briefing ofifcers take the position that no fact about nuclear warfare should be hidden any longer from the public.

To hide the facts, they claim, creates a state of fear and undermines the national will to resist.

Despite considerable argument to the contrary, the Air Force insists that the vast majority of people can survive an atomic attack if only they could be prevailed upon to build even the most rudimentary fallout shelters.

'Minutemen' Readied

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Within a few weeks a sleek Minuteman missile will stab skyward from this test center, signalling the start of a development program designed to give the United States a revolutionary weapons system bordering on the science-fiction concept of push-button war.

Once Minuteman is perfected, the Air Force plans the fatest missile buildup in U.S. history. The buildup, scheduled to start in mid-1962, will mark the beginning of an era when rockets rather than manned bombers will be the dominant force in the Strategic Air Command.

Present plans call for at least 600 Minutemen to be deployed by late 1964. About 450 of these will be spread across the Western United States in hardened underground silos built to withstand a near-miss by a nuclear bomb. The other 150 will roam the countryside on special railroad cars, making them elusive targets.

Construction has been completed at Cape Canaveral on extensive facilities for the flight test program. The launch area include two beehive-shaped blockhouses; two regular launch pads; two 90-foot deep silos, and asembly, storage, inspection and industrial buildings.

The initial launchings, slated to start in December, will be from land pads. Silo firings will begin in about six months, with railroad car shots scheduled here later in the program.

What is the advantage of Minuteman over the Atlas and Titan ICBMs?

"The answer is simple—solid fuel," an official replied. "Solid fuel permits storing of Minuteman for months in silos. It permits firing the missile from underground. And it gives the missile mobility, enabling it to be carried by railway.

"Atlas and Titan are tied to one difficult-to-handle liquid fuel, which requires extensive ground support equipment and more complex parts on the missile. Until storable liquid fuels are developed, Atlas and Titan will require a countdown and will have to be fired above ground. Thus, they are more vulnerable targets than minuteman.

Low cost and relative ability to survive atomc attack are two major arguments for Minuteman.

The Air Force estimates $20 million as the cost of construction and ground support equipment for one 50-missile Minuteman silo squadron. This compares with $75 million for construction and support equipment for a 10-missile Titan base, and $100 million for a Polaris submarine, which will carry 16 missiles. Minuteman trains will cost more than silo sites, but considerably less than a Polaris submarine.

When Minuteman reaches its present planned force of 600 missiles, in 1964, there will be about 250 Atlas and Titan missiles on station. This will give the Strategic Air Command more intercontinental range rockets than bombers.

"Then," the official remarked, "the bomber will begin passing from the scene. The missile will be our major weapon."

Kennedy's Gold Policy

By Frank Cormier

New President May Not Change Ike's Plan

WASHINGTON

When President Eisenhower revised military and foreign aid policies in a move to stem the gold drain, some predicted that his work would be undone next year by President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Don't count on this. As a matter of fact, circumstances might force Kennedy to invoke even sterner measures.

The president-elect is not committed to the Eisenhower action. A Kennedy representative was informed in advance about the administration's plans, but no expression of agreement was sought or given.

Still, Kennedy will not have an entirely free hand in fashioning his own foreign aid and military policies. He must operate in the world as he finds it on Inauguration day—a world in which the United States is steadily losing gold because it spends more money abroad than it receives.

During the election campaign, Kennedy accused the present administration of failure to take prompt and vigorous action to reverse this trend. How will he redeem his own pledge to do better?

In one campaign statement, Kennedy promised action on two fronts:

1. "We will begin immediate and vigorous negotiations to remove artificial barriers to the flow of American goods overseas, as well as restriction on the flow of more capital to this country."

2. "We will ask our allies to share the increasing burden of building the military and economic strength of the free world."

There is nothing new about either approach. The Eisenhower administration has been active in both areas.

However, Kennedy's lack of mention of other possibilities during the campaign can't be taken as a rejection of additional approaches.

While the president-elect has yet to elaborate on his position, some of his advisers have indicated they believe his campaign statement doesn't cover all the steps that will be necessary. One of these, Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith of the economics faculty at Harvard, discussed the gold-dollar problem in a speech a few hours before Eisenhower's new moves were announced on Nov. 16.

Galbraith said many aspects of federal policy must be reviewed in the light of the nation's international financial difficulties. He mentioned some of the very areas in which Eisenhower acted later the same day.

For example, Galbraith said the gold-dollar problem will have an impact in the deployment of troops overseas. He also suggested that a dollar saving program might affect post exchanges and commissaries abroad.

As for helping other nations, Galbraith said there is no reason to "consider economic aid in its present form to be wholly sacrosanct."

The professor said "difficult thought" in the broad area of overseas spending may have been postponed too long.

"Perhaps we will get no adequate action until we have an adequately dramatic portrayal of disaster," he concluded. "Perhaps we can act only out of a sense of despair. We may hope that this is not the case."

In many respects, Eisenhower has chosen the least painful ways in which to deal with the gold problem.

If the problem is indeed serious, and economists of both parties agree that it is, president-elect Kennedy isn't likely to find any less painful solution.

Revival Hinted In Congo Backwoods

LEOPOLDVILLE

Unrest sweeping the nation and measures no longer are to be feared contribute to the revival of cannibal witchcraft.

The Belgian administration and Christian missionaries never qiute stamped out the belief among the isolated and primitive tribes that eating your enemy will strengthen you.

Among some Baluba clans in Kasai and North Katanga, in the remote border regions of Oriental Province and in the swamps of the middle Congo, human flesh is again eaten in secret tribal rituals—not as a delicacy or for nourishment, but for the magic properties of a dead enemy's limbs and organs.

THE HEART brings courage, the brain intelligence and the legs speed, according to the witch doctors. They hold that the more dreaded and hated the enemy, the more powerful the magic.

But never is a man sacrificed in cold blood simply to be eaten, as in the cartoonists' "missionary stew.' The magic of the warrior tribesmen requires a body slain in combat or in vengeance.

U.N. officials are convinced that one of the eight Irish soldiers killed in a recent Baluba ambush in northern Katanga was eaten in a cannibal ritual.

His body disappeared from where he died under a hail of arrows. It never has been recovered. Experts in tribal customs believe he was selected from the eight victims as most suited for their rites.

Two Tunisians killed earlier in tribal fighting in southern Kasai are known to have been partly consumed in similar ceremonies.

THE PILOT of a single-seat Belgian observation plane shot down by Congolese mutineers near Inkisi in July never was found. A Congolese blandly told searchers:

"The people were so enraged they ate him."

Near Kundu, an escaping prisoner killed a policeman during the post-independence turmoil. Since there was no authority to pursue the murderer, the policemans' clan formed a posse, tracked the man through the jungle, killed him and ate him.

The dreaded Kitawala sect, the crocodile men of the middle Congo, dress in crocodile skins and rip up a victim's body with claws strapped on their arms.

The Kitawalas in the final years of Belgian rule brought the greatest upsurge of cannibalism in the Congo for nearly a century.

They were ruthlessly suppressed by the Belgian administration, but some of their followers are reported regrouping in remote areas.

All those familiar with the more primitive Congo tribes report a conspiracy of silence concerning the cannibal rites. Even in the cities, Africans become silent and hard of hearing when the matter is raised.

Public Notice

A midwestern newspaper received a letter from a British law firm containing a request to print a legal notice.

In brief, an English woman had decided to sue for a divorce from her long-absent husband. Under English, as under American law, she had to give due notice of her intentions.

But she and her solicitors (lawyers) knew only as to her husbands' whereabouts that he was reported to be in the Midwest. They were not sure but thought it was southern Michigan. An Ohio paper suggested that the notice be published in a Michigan paper, but the replay came back that they wanted the notice published as first requested.

This was done in the legal notice columns. But the story was so unusual the newspaper gave it a "play" in its page one news columns, also. It is not known whether the notice or the news story ever came to the attention of the husband.

But this little incident illustrates two things. It shows how the wife moved in a manner to exercise her rights, yet in a way to safeguard those of her husband by putting him on notice and giving him an opportunity to make a countermove if he desired.

In particular, it showed how the bona fide newspaper is an effective and preferred medium for such purposes and how in so doing it renders an important service for which the law provides.

Talk Alone Does Not Win Elections

One of several explanations Gov. DiSalle has offered for Democratic statewide defeats in the Nov. 8 election is his contention that Republicans were better financed.

This is a familiar Democratic refrain which can be debated if anyone wants to get down to specifics. So Courtney Burton, chairman of Ohio Republican Finance Committee, might have been expected to take exception to the governor's remarks when he spoke to county GOP officials the other day.

But Mr. Burton pulled a switch. He indicated that he considered Gov. DiSalle's statements a tribute to the fine job Republicans did this year in backing up their party loyalty with money.

Mr. Burton said he believes both parties should be solvent, to preserve the kind of democracy practiced in this country. Contributions to political parties dedicated to the promotion of the democratic process are as worthy as contributions to charitable institutions, Mr. Burton concluded.

THIS ATTITUDE is remarkable for its rarity, but Mr. Burton's point was that it should not be unusual. Political organizations too often treat their financial affairs as a necessary evil, about which it is best to say as little as possible.

But it is no disgrace to back up convictions with something tangible. Few other organized institutions in our society are expected to act as if they don't need money to get along.

A man who has deep convictions about the political system under which he lives certainly should not be embarrassed to contribute a small part of his material assets to the party he thinks best expresses those convictions.

The efforts of recent years to organize bipartisan campaigns to provide dollars for the two political parties are well-intentioned, but they are impractical. That is why they are seldom heard of after the initial kickoff.

Few people can be prevailed upon to part with their cash in a vague sense of duty to either or both political parties. They have to be asked to kick in to something in which they have put their hearts.

THE SUCCESS of the two-party system depends upon the sincerity with which the parties' members give allegiance to the party of their choice.

The success of each party in applying its political principles at the level of practice depends in part on its members' interest in keeping the party in healthy financial condition.

When all of the sources of Democratic party funds are considered, it is doubtful that Gov. DiSalle is right in saying the Republicans are better fixed financially.

But even if it were true, it would be, as Mr. Burton said, a tribute, not an insult.

Extended Unemployment Compensation

Gov. DiSalle's call for a special session of the General Assembly to consider a 13-week extension of unemployment compensation gives legislators, unemployed workers, politicians and Ohioans in general some out-of-the-ordinary decisions to make.

First and foremost is the decision that emergency compensation is justified. Unemployment is in excess of 172,000, upward of 6 per cent of the state's work force. That is the "trigger point" generally believed to be the emergency level of unemployment.

Further justification for extension of payments is the secondary purpose of unemployment compensation, which is to maintain minimum buying power when joblessness builds up.

Ohio business needs an influx of buying power not only for the sustaining needs of unemployed breadwinners who have used up their 26 weeks of payments, or are about to use them, but for the special needs associated with Christmas.

FOR THESE TWO reasons there is unlikely to be strong opposition to an emergency extension of 13 weeks of BUC payments—from 26 to 39. This was done in mid-1958, to deal with the employment slump that occurred that year. The emergency extension expired at the end of 1958.

In 1959 an attempt was made to extend the benefit period permanently. It was our position at that time that no permanent extension was justified as long as emergency extensions could be made whenever needed.

It is our position now that another emergency extension is needed.

There is a mild political problem involved in the extension—the fact that the move is being proposed and must be acted on when the General Assembly has a Democratic majority that was wiped out in the Nov. 8 election.

The Democratic majorities in the House and Senate, even if they vote solidly, must recruit Republican help to put over an emergency extension. Republicans could block the emergency proposal this year and take it up in January, when the General Assembly will convene with their party in control.

In that event, Republicans could claim the credit for helping Ohio's unemployed. This way, Democrats most assuredly will claim credit.

The only way to sidestep credit-giving and credit-taking would be for members of both parties to support the emergency proposal and depend on Ohio workers to remember this bipartisan support in the future.

THAT WOULD BE the wisest course—to take the emergency extension out of partisan politics by giving it bipartisan backing.

This is what the Ohio Unemployment Compensation Act is designed to do—cushion the shock of large-scale unemployment by providing minimum incomes for the state's unemployed workers.

This is the time to give the law a chance to work the way it must be made to work whenever an emergency arises.

The Best News There Is

They say a baby is born in the United States every 10½ seconds. That's how the Census Bureau keeps track of population growth — by multiplication.

A birth rate of more than 350 babies an hour 24 hours a day makes any one baby seem inconsequential. But that is an interesting point about babies.

There are no inconsequential babies. The birth of a baby is always the best news there is—an affirmation of life going on, of hope springing eternal and the best being yet to come.

That's the way we feel about the baby just born to the John F. Kennedys of Massachusetts and soon to be of the White House in Washington. This namesake of a father who has apparently been elected president of the United States in a close election is a consequential baby, plus.

He and his sister will be the most photographed children in the United States. The thought of a crib in the White House after Jan. 20 and of a little girl playing under the trees when the weather turns nice next spring is enough to make the coldest heart melt a little.

The new father has the congratulations of all of us. Fatherhood is a purely nonpartisan matter and congratulations are always in order. And Mrs. Kennedy has congratulations, too. As we older fathers like to point out, there's no law against congratulating new mothers if it will make them feel good.

The Once Over

There's comedy in the inclusion of Sophie Tucker among entertainers allegedly performing in New York night-clubs without a license. Police say the purpose of permit is to keep a check on possible crime records.

Only crimes Sophie is guilty of are: (1) Resisting Father Time; (2) carrying an overload of sequins; (3) violating the quiet zone laws through vocal gusto.

She is in her 70's, has been performing for half a century and has had a career sufficient to protect her from "Lady, lemme see your papers just to make sure you didn't figure in the Lizzie Borden hatchet case, the shooting of Dan McGrew or the disappearance of Judge Crater."

Could be, however, that Sophie, keeps her girlish vitality so well, that the police might confuse her with some kid performer who has just hit Manhattan and has not yet been definitely identified.

Sophie is accused only of failing to carry her 1960 license, which the police seem to rate with a failure to carry current auto plates, front and rear.

Few people knew that entertainers were classified as folks who had to carry licenses, front and rear, so to speak. Discovery that a comedian can't legally crack jokes without a card in niteries, and that a singer is not supposed to clear her throat without the "necessary papers" is surprising.

Suppose a "comic" once got tangled up with the law. Is he more dangerous making people happy as a night-club entertainer than if he had taken up a career in plumbing, sign painting or circus clowning?

There are lads who are not bargains as comedians but no critics have given them bad notices because a permit showed they had once put a slug in a subway turnstile.

(Listening to some of the routines could lead to belief they were auditioning for a criminal record.)

There are cabaret performers who, despite the fact they have never been convicted of a crime, COULD BE seeking a conviction on the basis of their gags. But most of them are making the same fight for a living that the rest of us make as law-abiding folks, and don't rate gendarmes digging into their past lives.

If they have to carry special permits why not chefs, pastry cooks, waiters, customers who always want to play the snare drum and all toast-masters trying to inject terrible jokes into testimonial banquets.

PRESIDENT-ELECT KENNEDY, it develops, is a golfer. Despite the fact that there is no game in which so many Americans lose so much prestige on so many fairways.

The "pioneer life," we take it, will be acceptable with a golf bag, and those "new frontiers" will not be without direction flags.

Jimmy Hoffa is resting as comfortably as could be expected after the report Robert Kennedy, the senator's brother, may be named attorney general of the U.S.A.

'Arm In Arm'

'Minutemen' Stir Clash In Pentagon

By Bem Price

WASHINGTON

A quiet but mounting revolt is being watched by Air Force officers against the notion that war can be deterred simply by aiming a small number of missiles at an enemy's population centers.

A key factor in this revolt is the development of the 6,000-mile-range Minuteman missile, a true push-button weapon designed for mass production.

The Minuteman, so the Air Force believes, will make it possible to abandon the theory of "deterrence by terror."

In the Air Forces' opinion the use of terror, a threat implying mass slaughter of civilians by the military, is effective only so long as the enemy's civil and military defenses are weak, but that it will not deter a well-prepared army.

CLEARLY, the Air Force believes the Soviet Union is no longer susceptible to the terror deterrent.

And this is where the Minuteman missile enters the picture.

With the weapon, which is to be flight tested — two years ahead of schedule —at Cape Canaveral, Fla., next month, the Air Force believes the United States can regain clear military supremacy for the West.

Minutemen can be produced in such numbers, says the Air Force, that it could knock out much of Russia's nuclear missile potential with a saturation attack aimed at military zones.

Hours of background briefings by Air Force officers on the role of the Minuteman in national defense have shed considerable light on what may become a rip-snorting controversy between the services in the new administration.

Of necessity the briefings went to the heart of Air Force strategic beliefs. All the spokesmen presented the official Air Force viewpoint, but none spoke for personal attribution.

In any case, these beliefs may well mark the most significant return to the first principles of warfare made public by military planners since the beginning of the missile age.

IN LECTURES to its own officers, the Air Force maintains that to destroy enemy cities without first destroying his military striking force is strategically and morally wrong.

The Air Force contends that to make population centers prime targets for attack would amount to an expenditure of the United States' major force against noncital targets, leaving the enemy fully armed and with this nation at its mercy.

Thus, the Air Force has returned to an ancient military principle: An armed force exists to destroy the enemys' armed force.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, has said repeatedly in speeches:

"The concept of deterrence as interpreted by some is merely the possession of military strength which could inflict severe and perhaps indiscriminate punishment upon an enemy. Apparently they disregard the need for military strength to defeat him. . . .I cannot agree with it. If deterrence fails and a nation must fight, it must have the strength to win."

In brief, the Air Force believes an enemy can be deterred from attack or beaten if he ignores the odds, only by the existence of clear military superiority.

If both the United States and Soviet Union have roughtly equal missile forces, the Air Force contends, the Russians might be tempted to nibble away at the free world, gambling that the United States would not risk nuclear war for the sake of Allies.

THE AIR FORCE also believes the bulk of the deterrent forces should be based in this nation where the enemy could not destroy them one by one.

This latter argument is directed against the placing of our major strategic reliance on the Navy's missile-launching Polaris submarine force.

Navy officers have argued dispersion of missiles at sea in submarines would insure their survival while drawing fire away from continental United States. Placing a missile striking force inside the country, they claim, simply invites domestic attack.

The Air Force raises this question: Would the United States go to war if the Russians sank one of our missile submarines? Two: Three? How far would the United States permit the Russians to go if the Soviets began a war of attrition against our submerged launching pads?

To this argument, Adm. W. F. Raborn, boss of the Navy Polaris program, said before Congress last July, "If we lose one ship we are going to do something. . . .It is barely possible we could have a limited war at sea. It is possible that it would never extend to the United States, but the enemy would lose that war."

Adm. Arleigh Budks, chief of naval operations, said it would be impossible to detect and destroy all Polaris subs since they would be mixed in with atomic-powered attack submarines.

* * *

He also said he could foresee the day when missiles would have such extreme accuracy they would be able to score hits so close to underground launching sites, such as the Air Force has in mind for Minuteman, that the sites would be destroyed.

THE NAVY'S chief also noted that mobile Minuteman would have to have tracks —and tracks can be destroyed. On the other hand, he noted, a Polaris submarine will operate in a section of the ocean as large as Texas.

Invulnerability to attack is essential to an American missile force because the United States has said it would never attack first.

The Air Force argues this invulnerability can be obtained with literally thousands of Minuteman missiles ready to fire in "hardened" underground launching tubes, or silos. With such numbers dispersed across the country, a knockout attack by Russia would be virtually impossible.

At this point the question arises: Who is going to be around after an attack to care whether the United States or Russia wins?

The Air Force briefing ofifcers take the position that no fact about nuclear warfare should be hidden any longer from the public.

To hide the facts, they claim, creates a state of fear and undermines the national will to resist.

Despite considerable argument to the contrary, the Air Force insists that the vast majority of people can survive an atomic attack if only they could be prevailed upon to build even the most rudimentary fallout shelters.

THIRTY YEARS AGO — New Ohio auto licenses — gray and black — went on sale in East Liverpool and other Columbiana County Communities.

Sawing their way through bars on their cell door, four prisoners made their escape from the County Jail at Lisbon.

Fires in Salem and Winona damaged one house and razed another, with a combined loss of $7,500.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Rosey Roswell, Pittsburgh radio announcer, gave a humorous talk, "How To Treat Your Wife and Make Her Like It", at a meeting of the East Liverpool Retail Grocers Association at Mary Patterson Memorial.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Midland Rotary Club became the first in the 160th District to over-subscribe for the Rotary magazine.

A Wellsville family of five lost all its belongings in a flash fire that destroyed their frame home on Buckeye Ave.

Public Notice

A midwestern newspaper received a letter from a British law firm containing a request to print a legal notice.

In brief, an English woman had decided to sue for a divorce from her long-absent husband. Under English, as under American law, she had to give due notice of her intentions.

But she and her solicitors (lawyers) knew only as to her husbands' whereabouts that he was reported to be in the Midwest. They were not sure but thought it was southern Michigan. An Ohio paper suggested that the notice be published in a Michigan paper, but the replay came back that they wanted the notice published as first requested.

This was done in the legal notice columns. But the story was so unusual the newspaper gave it a "play" in its page one news columns, also. It is not known whether the notice or the news story ever came to the attention of the husband.

But this little incident illustrates two things. It shows how the wife moved in a manner to exercise her rights, yet in a way to safeguard those of her husband by putting him on notice and giving him an opportunity to make a countermove if he desired.

In particular, it showed how the bona fide newspaper is an effective and preferred medium for such purposes and how in so doing it renders an important service for which the law provides.

Snow Flurries Slated To End Balmy Weather

Cold weather and snow flurries are scheduled Tuesday, ending balmy weather that sent the mercury into the 60's over the weekend, the Ohio forecaster said today.

Today's high will be 60-65, marked by possible showers this afternoon. The showers will end by tonight and the mercury will drop to a low of 35-38.

A warm sun made it shirt sleeve weather throughout the district Sunday. A Fredericktown area resident said the balmy weather has fooled his strawberry plants into putting out late November blooms.

Ohio

ed workers who have exhausted regular benefits since last Jan. 1 to apply for a maximum of 13 weeks of additional benefits until March 31.

Republicans say the proposal could wait for consideration until the next regular session of the legislature convening Jan. 2 under GOP control. They have decided to promise the votes needed for emergency approval pending special session review of DiSalle's unemployment figures.

DiSalle claims his proposed extender is virtually the same as the one passing easily during a 1958 special session called by then Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill when the GOP controlled the General Assembly.

But, DiSalle said, unemployment in Ohio at that time was decreasing, while now it is increasing. And he added that increasing unemployment would put an added burden on local governments already hard-pressed to meet poor relief demands.

DiSalle has gone to some length to bolster his claim that unemployment had reached a point where it should be dealt with immediately to prevent serious consequences. He released his message for the special session and the extender proposal after sending copies to legislators in advance of the lame duck session.

DiSalle says Ohio unemployment now is substantially above the national average of 4.4 per cent of those covered by the unemployment compensation law.

Pointing out that many of those exhausting their regular jobless benefits would move onto local poor relief rolls, DiSalle's special session message said:

"I feel it would be unconscionable to transfer this burden to the general taxpayer when by law we have established a fund to alleviate the problems of unemployment within the state."

The governor referred to a fund created by employer assessments to pay jobless benefits. That fund exceeded $395 million at the end of 1959, but DiSalle estimated it would be less than $320 million at the end of this year. Cost of the proposed extender will be about $26 million, he figured.

DiSalle also expects Democrats to confirm more than 100 appointments to state posts, boards and commissions. Senate confirmation is required for appointments made since the last regular session of the legislature. Such action at the special session would prevent Republicans from blocking any of the appointments in the regular session next month. Failure to confirm would require the governor to make different appointments.

The special session has been limited by the governor's call to considering the unemployment benefit extender. The Ohio constitution provides that a special session can consider only subjects specified by the chief executive.

Snow Flurries Slated To End Balmy Weather

Cold weather and snow flurries are scheduled Tuesday, ending balmy weather that sent the mercury into the 60's over the weekend, the Ohio forecaster said today.

Today's high will be 60-65, marked by possible showers this afternoon. The showers will end by tonight and the mercury will drop to a low of 35-38.

A warm sun made it shirt sleeve weather throughout the district Sunday. A Fredericktown area resident said the balmy weather has fooled his strawberry plants into putting out late November blooms.

Ohio

ed workers who have exhausted regular benefits since last Jan. 1 to apply for a maximum of 13 weeks of additional benefits until March 31.

Republicans say the proposal could wait for consideration until the next regular session of the legislature convening Jan. 2 under GOP control. They have decided to promise the votes needed for emergency approval pending special session review of DiSalle's unemployment figures.

DiSalle claims his proposed extender is virtually the same as the one passing easily during a 1958 special session called by then Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill when the GOP controlled the General Assembly.

But, DiSalle said, unemployment in Ohio at that time was decreasing, while now it is increasing. And he added that increasing unemployment would put an added burden on local governments already hard-pressed to meet poor relief demands.

DiSalle has gone to some length to bolster his claim that unemployment had reached a point where it should be dealt with immediately to prevent serious consequences. He released his message for the special session and the extender proposal after sending copies to legislators in advance of the lame duck session.

DiSalle says Ohio unemployment now is substantially above the national average of 4.4 per cent of those covered by the unemployment compensation law.

Pointing out that many of those exhausting their regular jobless benefits would move onto local poor relief rolls, DiSalle's special session message said:

"I feel it would be unconscionable to transfer this burden to the general taxpayer when by law we have established a fund to alleviate the problems of unemployment within the state."

The governor referred to a fund created by employer assessments to pay jobless benefits. That fund exceeded $395 million at the end of 1959, but DiSalle estimated it would be less than $320 million at the end of this year. Cost of the proposed extender will be about $26 million, he figured.

DiSalle also expects Democrats to confirm more than 100 appointments to state posts, boards and commissions. Senate confirmation is required for appointments made since the last regular session of the legislature. Such action at the special session would prevent Republicans from blocking any of the appointments in the regular session next month. Failure to confirm would require the governor to make different appointments.

The special session has been limited by the governor's call to considering the unemployment benefit extender. The Ohio constitution provides that a special session can consider only subjects specified by the chief executive.

Officers Hunt 'River Pirate'

Police were searching today for a "river pirate" who stole a skiff from its moorings along the River Rd., but abandoned it later upstream.

Cecil White, 573 Railroad St., told officers his 12-foot rowboat was stolen between 5 p. m. Thursday and 5 p. m. Saturday from its mooring near the Amoco Bulk Station on the River Rd. The thief cut a chain which moored the boat to the bank, he said.

The boat was found abandoned Sunday on the river bank at Ohio Ave., officers said, adding that investigation of the theft is continuing.

In another theft case, Charles Bishop, 183 Maine Blvd., told police an auto battery was stolen from the lawn at his home between 12:20 and 4:25 p. m. Sunday.

Two cases of vandalism also were reported over the weekend.

Vada McMillan, 1031 Pennsylvania Ave., told police a vandal hurled a beer bottle through the rear window of her 1953 auto while it was parked on Pennsylvania Ave. opposite the Veterans Social Club between midnight Saturday and 7:15 a. m. Sunday.

James Wilson, 172 Thompson Ave., told police the paint on the right side of his 1960 model convertible was scratched by a vandal while it was parked in front of his home Sunday between 3 and 3:30 p. m.

school teachers to miss last Wednesday's monthly payday. The school board said the legislature had stripped it of funds to meet the $2,525,000 payroll.

The legislature then appropriated funds, and teachers were told they would begin receiving their paychecks today. Then, Sunday night, House Speaker J. Thomas Jewell said it would be Wednesday before the payroll could be processed.

Most of the 90,000 public school pupils who had a week-long holiday last week because of teachers statewide meetings and the Thanksgiving holiday, were expected back in school today.

School Supt. James F. Redmond predicted operations throughout the city would be near normal except for the two integrated schools.

Search Pressed For 4 Escapees

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP) — Authorities early today were seeking four of the five prisoners who fled on foot after following a minister from the Tuscarawas County jail Sunday night.

The five rushed through a door that was opened to allow the departure of the Rev. George T. Smith of Winfield, who had been preaching a sermon for their benefit.

Paul E. Samples, 19, of Walton, W. Va., was captured four hours later at a roadblock in nearby Uhrichsville. He was in a car with friends who said they were taking him back to the jail where he was held on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Norman Clugston, 38, a radio dispatcher at the sheriff's office, said the four still at large were not armed and none was considered dangerous. Clugston was knocked aside by the jail door when the five escaped but was not hurt. He identified the fugitives as:

Willie Gooch, 42, of Dover, who was held on charges of grand larceny, breaking and entering and parole violation.

Norman Orr, 23, Ghadenhutten, breaking and entering an uninhabited dwelling.

Dale F. Kampan, 22, Dennison, larceny by trick.

Deputies said Gooch, a trusty, had been giving haircuts to other prisoners during the afternoon and apparently left the bullpen gate unlocked, making it possible for the escapees to follow the minister when the outer door was opened to let him out.

Parked Autos Hit In Mishap

Two parked autos were damaged Saturday afternoon on Washington St. when a car which a woman motorist was maneuvering away from the curb went out of control and shot across the street, police reported.

A 1956 sedan operated by Helene Beaumont, 68, of 704 Broadway, Wellsville, struck parked 1960 cars owned by John E. Morgan of N. Shady Ln. Dr., Fisher Park, and Glenn Seevers, 936 Plutus Ave., Chester, officers said.

The woman explained her driving was hampered by the fact she has a cast on her right foot, officers said. In starting her auto, she placed her left foot on the gas pedal. The car, in reverse, shot across the street and hit the two parked cars before she could apply the brakes, the woman said.

There was damage to the rear fenders and bumper of the Beaumont car; extensive damage to the right rear and left wheel and tire of the Morgan car and the right front fender of the Seevers auto, officers said. The crash was timed at 12:30.

A collision on the Lisbon St. Hill Saturday at 11:51 p. m. damaged a 1953 sedan driven by Floyd Derenberger, 52, of Lisbon St. and a 1959 sedan operated by Richard Bowdler, 31, of W. 5th St., officers said.

Derenberger said he rounded a curve while southbound on the grade and hit the left rear of Bowdlers' car, which he said was across the center line. Bowdler declined to make a statement, officers said.

Kenneth L. Day, 27, of Columbus told police the right rear quarter panel and right front door of his 1959 convertible were damaged by a hit-skip vehicle Saturday night while it was parked on Valley Ave. Day said he parked the auto on Valley Ave. while visiting on Price St. He reported the damage at 8:13.

Reappraisal In City Nears Completion

Only 50 tracts remain to be checked in East Liverpool in the countywide reappraisal program, Adin Kauffman of Columbiana, head of the reappraisal survey, said today.

Approximately 1,000 tracts remain to be checked in Liverpool Township to complete the reappraisal in the city and township, he said.

Kauffman said the reappraisal of Wellsville property should be completed within 10 days. The work in the city is about 90 per cent complete while 55 per cent of the work has been completed in Yellow Creek Township.

strike against President Francois Duvalier's government, the president shook up the army general staff and the administrative council of the National Bank.

Last week Duvalier expelled the Roman Catholic archbishop of Haiti and accused him of supporting a student strike the government claimed was backed by Communists.

In Colombia, 30,000 bank workers called a strike for "social liberation." The bank workers have struck twice before this year. This time the union is demanding that the banks withdraw a Supreme Court appeal against an arbitration award that favored the workers. The strike was denounced by President Alberto Lleras Camargo, and troops were stationed around the bank.

Power Failure Causes Stir Through Pentagon

Lights winked out in the huge Defense Department building at 9:28 a.m. and a fire alarm sounded in some areas.

Officials and workers crowded corridors, and a few filed outside. Candles were lighted in some offices. An auxiliary system kept a few lights going.

In seven minutes the alarm stopped. Five minutes later the lights came on but the alarm started again.

By 9:44 things were back to normal and building officials said the cause was a simple power failure.

school teachers to miss last Wednesday's monthly payday. The school board said the legislature had stripped it of funds to meet the $2,525,000 payroll.

The legislature then appropriated funds, and teachers were told they would begin receiving their paychecks today. Then, Sunday night, House Speaker J. Thomas Jewell said it would be Wednesday before the payroll could be processed.

Most of the 90,000 public school pupils who had a week-long holiday last week because of teachers statewide meetings and the Thanksgiving holiday, were expected back in school today.

School Supt. James F. Redmond predicted operations throughout the city would be near normal except for the two integrated schools.

Search Pressed For 4 Escapees

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP) — Authorities early today were seeking four of the five prisoners who fled on foot after following a minister from the Tuscarawas County jail Sunday night.

The five rushed through a door that was opened to allow the departure of the Rev. George T. Smith of Winfield, who had been preaching a sermon for their benefit.

Paul E. Samples, 19, of Walton, W. Va., was captured four hours later at a roadblock in nearby Uhrichsville. He was in a car with friends who said they were taking him back to the jail where he was held on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Norman Clugston, 38, a radio dispatcher at the sheriff's office, said the four still at large were not armed and none was considered dangerous. Clugston was knocked aside by the jail door when the five escaped but was not hurt. He identified the fugitives as:

Willie Gooch, 42, of Dover, who was held on charges of grand larceny, breaking and entering and parole violation.

Norman Orr, 23, Ghadenhutten, breaking and entering an uninhabited dwelling.

Dale F. Kampan, 22, Dennison, larceny by trick.

Deputies said Gooch, a trusty, had been giving haircuts to other prisoners during the afternoon and apparently left the bullpen gate unlocked, making it possible for the escapees to follow the minister when the outer door was opened to let him out.

Byrd Offers Program To Help West Virginia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-WVA, has presented a 12 point program to the incoming Kennedy administration designed to help West Virginia's economic life.

Byrd's office said the senator had made the suggestions in letters to President-elect John F. Kennedy and Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

Among other things, Byrd advocated a depressed areas bill, more interstate highway mileage for West Virginia, more national forest and park areas, location of military installatons within the state boards, an expanded coal research program, and protection of the state's glass, coal and pottery industries against imports.

Agency Reports 2 'Buys' In Fruit

Apples and grapefruit lead the list of economical fruit choices this week, according to Richard Skinner, market information agent with the Agricultural Extension Service.

Florida oranges are increasing rapidly in quantity and tangerines and tangelos also are available. The quality of these last two fruits is at their best near the Christmas season. Red Emperor grapes are among the best values in grapes.

Turnips, parsnips, rutabagas, potatoes and onions are budget-pleasing choices. Sweet potatoes are near the season low in price. For salads, you will find some excellent quality greenhouse tomatoes.

Dairy products continue in ample supply. Dairy farmers have over a period of years produced more milk in the fall and winter months with improved management practices. For the consumer, this has meant a more uniform price for milk, the year-around.

Modern dairy processes enable homemakers to buy uniform quality cottage cheese, buttermilk, sour and sweet cream and butter any day of the year.

The most economical cut of pork available in most stores is the Boston butt. Fryers are featured in many stores.

Deer Killed By Auto; Could This Be Suicide?

Hancock County's one-day buck deer season opened at sunrise this morning and one animal apparetly chose death by means other than a hunter's rifle.

Sheriff's deputies said an 8-point buck ran into the path of a Mingo Junction man's car at 2 a. m. and had to be destroyed because of injuries.

Carl A. Zende hit the buck with his 1959 model station wagon near the Town & Country Club north of Weirton. The one-day season ends at sunset for West Virginia hunters, according to Walter McCrea, county conservation officer.

Turnips, parsnips, rutabagas, potatoes and onions are budget-pleasing choices. Sweet potatoes are near the season low in price. For salads, you will find some excellent quality greenhouse tomatoes.

Dairy products continue in ample supply. Dairy farmers have over a period of years produced more milk in the fall and winter months with improved management practices. For the consumer, this has meant a more uniform price for milk the year-around.

Modern dairy processes enable homemakers to buy uniform quality cottage cheese, buttermilk, sour and sweet cream and butter any day of the year.

The most economical cut of pork available in most stores is the Boston butt. Fryers are featured in many stores.

Deer Killed By Auto; Could This Be Suicide?

Hancock County's one-day buck deer season opened at sunrise this morning and one animal apparetly chose death by means other than a hunter's rifle.

Sheriff's deputies said an 8-point buck ran into the path of a Mingo Junction man's car at 2 a. m. and had to be destroyed because of injuries.

Carl A. Zende hit the buck with his 1959 model station wagon near the Town & Country Club north of Weirton. The one-day season ends at sunset for West Virginia hunters, according to Walter McCrea, county conservation officer.

Kennedy Kept Quite Busy By Caroline And John Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The John F. Kennedys—father who's president-elect, mother, newborn son and small daughter—all appear to be doing splendidly, thank you, after quite a weekend.

Father from time to time, however, did show some slight signs of harassment.

The job of preparing to take over the presidency Jan. 20 is enough to keep any man extremely busy, but Kennedy's chores have multiplied rapidly since John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr. arrived early Friday, three weeks ahead of schedule.

Kennedy in the last few days has taken on these added assignments:

Retriever of Caroline from beneath church pews.

The word from the Kennedy doctors Sunday was that the baby was coming along fine, was perfectly healthy and had its first regular feeding—three-quarters of an ounce of powdered milk formula. It had been getting small quantities of lactose, a sugar and water solution.

Dr. Edward B. Broocks, a pediatrician, said there was no basis for reports the infant had developed a respiratory or breathing ailment.

One new statistic was provided—John Jr. is 20 inches long. It was announced earlier he has brown hair. In the interest of as little handling as possible there has been no check on weight, the doctors said, since birth when he weighed in at 6 pounds 3 ounces.

As for mother Kennedy's condition, Dr. John W. Walsh, who performed the Caesarean section, said she was feeling bright and chipper and that "everything is really going beautifully."

Over the weekend, the president-elect solved one problem—how to tell Caroline about the addition to the family. He informed her that her mother was away getting her a brother.

Sunday morning the president-elect and Caroline came out of their N Street home and walked three blocks to Mass at Holy Trinity church.

Her father had her picture prayer book in his hand and she carried a rag doll. But they hadn't gone half a block when Caroline handed the doll to the president-elect and he dangled it from his left hand the rest of the way to church.

Caroline, who had been greeted with "happy birthday" shouts all along the way, was in bubbling spirits and never sat still for an instant.

She sprawled on the kneeling bench. She stretched out on the seat. She ducked under the pew. She clambered over a pew divider and snuggled up to a teen-age girl.

At that point daddy retrieved her. Once more she scrambled under the pew, once more she was retrieved and spent the rest of the service on her father's lap. But she kept right on wriggling and paid small attention to her father's efforts to shush her.

Mall Experiment Ends For Downtown Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Workmen started removing the downtown pedestrian malls today, ending a 20-week experiment.

It will take three days to remove the malls from three blocks. Traffic should be resumed Thursday.

Thomas Basich, streets commissioner, said items used in mall construction including shrubs, sod, water tanks, lights and concrete blocks will be turned over to various city departments.

The malls, dedicated July 11, cost the city an estimated $21,000.

Ohio Tug Captain Dies In Canal Lock Mishap

BALDWINSVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—The body of Orlo Robert Edwards, about 57, of Ashtabula, Ohio, a tug boat captain, was found floating near Lock 24 of the State Barge Canal today.

In 1946 Pope Pius XII decreed that accordions may be played in Roman Catholic churches.

Ancient Rifle Bursts, Injures Toledo Youth

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—An ancient muzzle-loading rifle being used for rifle practice exploded Sunday, injuring a 17-year-old Toledo youth.

Tennis Figure Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Helena Hellwig Pouch, 86, women's national singles tennis champion in 1895, died Saturday after a brief illness. She was the widow of William H. Pouch, board chairman of the Concrete Steel Co. She was president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution from 1941 to 1944.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: When my wife gets ready for bed she greases herself up like she's preparing to swim the English Channel. Then she rolls her hair up in aluminum gadgets and fastens them with hairpins. One night she'll put my eye out.

When I complained to her she said, "I have a choice — my hair can look good either at night or the next day." She claims if she doesn't pin her hair up at night it is unmanageable.

About the grease — she says her skin is dry.

You're a woman, Ann, tell me, is all this jazz necessary?—SAM.

Dear Sam: No. There are non-sticky, nongooey creams on the market and your wife should inquire about them. Also, no woman has to go to bed looking like Univac. If her hair is difficult to manage, she should get a permanent.

If she must wear pins and a hairnet, there are attractive pins available, decorated with daisies and rosebuds, and cute hairnets made of metallic thread and trimmed with satin bows.

Give her $5 today and tell her to go shopping.

It's Now That Counts

Dear Ann: Our daughter is now 19 years old. She was born a little too soon after our marriage, but my husband and I moved immediately to another city and no one thought anything about it.

Our daughter became interested in a job that required her to present her birth certificate. She wrote to the city hall of the town where she was born and they sent her a photostated copy of the original document.

She has let us know she was disappointed to learn she's been celebrating her birthday in December although she really was born in September.

Now that she suspects something, what shall we say? —TROUBLED PARENTS.

Dear Troubled: Be realistic. If she has seen a copy of the original certificate, she's more than suspicious — she's dead sure.

Since you're trapped, admit the truth and then drop it. If you've been good parents all these years, what happened before she was born can't really make any difference.

Acknowledgements

Dear Ann: Recently a well known professional man passed away. He had many friends and I'm sure there were hundreds of thank-you notes to write after the funeral. Instead of sending cards, the family sent out mimeographed letters which started, "Dear Friend." Even the signature was mimeographed.

I was shocked by the impersonal treatment. A few people I work with argued it was all right since he was prominent and the list of those who remembered him was probably a long one. What is your opinion?—WONDERING.

Dear Wondering: I'm with you. If the man was prominent and had lots of friends the family should have enlisted the help of his friends (if relatives weren't available) to acknowledge the remembrances properly.

The very least that is acceptable is a printed or engraved card saying "The family of ZM wishes to thank you . . . etc." and the card should be signed by hand — not by a machine.

Wet Noodle Again

Dear Readers: The wet noodle comes out of retirement. Or perhaps I should take 10 lashes with a telephone cord!

I recommended a jack - type phone so nocturnal orators and pests could be plugged out. An impressive list of telephone company employes and executives informed me that regulations differ according to the state and the telephone company. In most states the regulations require one permanent phone in the house.

The best solution is to request an instrument with an adjustable bell —then turn it way down. It costs money but it's worth it. — ANN LANDERS.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-address envelope.

Michigan Man Fined In Wellsville Accident

A Michigan trucker, cited as the result of an accident involving two trucks and four cars early Tuesday morning on lower Clark Ave., Wellsville, was fined for failure to stop in the assured clear distance at a hearing Friday before Mayor William J. Shoub.

The woman was hospitalized briefly with injuries suffered in the mishap. Also damaged in the crash were parked cars owned by Everett Croft, 819 Fenton St., Elmer Wellington of Irondale R. D. 1 and Mary E. Lewis, 1920 Clark Ave., Wellsville.

The mishap occurred during a heavy fog.

Russians Puzzle Ohio Shortwave Radio Fan

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—"I'm going to write Radio Moscow and ask them what they are talking about," says David F. Thomas of nearby Proctorville. The Russian radio station last Friday said it was broadcasting information on Soviet progress in making a radio map of the sun because Thomas had asked for it.

Thomas, a 51-year-old amateur radio monitor, said he did not make the request. But he supposed it had something to do with his hearing the radio signal of the first Russian sputnik and his correspondence with Soviet astronomers dating back to 1931. Radio Moscow notified him of the broadcast in advance, but he says he missed it and now "I'm in the dark."

Scientists Shed Light On Weight Problem

Your dietitian has just returned from a stimulating meeting with the American Dietetic Association, held this year in Cleveland, Ohio. It is becoming increasingly evident that overeating, followed by the consequent overweight, is our most damaging form of mulnutrition.

By Ida Jean Kain

Quite obviously nature did not intend for us to pile up any great reserve of fat for the body has no use for it. Excess fat is a burden and a threat to health.

Dr. Charles Glenn King, executive director of the Nutrition Foundation, emphasized, "The evidence increases steadily to indicate that excess body fat is unfavorable to health in terms of heart disease, cerebral strokes, diabetes, kidney failure, liver diseases, risks of surgery, and a shortened life span."

DR. KING FURTHER pointed out that the earlier in life the trend of overweight begins, the more difficult it is to correct the food pattern or repair the injury.

On the brighter side, this nutrition authority believes much real progress is being made in the direction of educating professional groups and the public to see the picture as it really is.

For adults, what are the dangerous weight ages? Mr. Edward A. Lew, insurance statistician, revealed that the current pattern of weight increase with advance in age is different for men and women; men put most of their weight on in their twenties and thirties, while women do so after 35.

Desirable weights—those associated with lowest mortality—are 15 to 20 pounds below average weight past age 30. If people kept their weight down to the average in the early twenties, they would be close to their desirable weights.

This weight problem was tackled from every angle, including exercise. A long-forgotten factor is calorie expenditure. The biggest variable in the total calories used daily is the amount of exercise taken daily.

IN AN EXPERIMENT where the calorie intake was controlled, and exercise, in the form of walking, accurately measured, it was shown that exercise clearly contributed to a higher rate of calorie burning. The moral to the experiment: Dieters need more exercise.

Your dietitian has come back home, inspired all over again to help you in battling poundage.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

'Do-It-Yourself' Ideas Offered On Decorations

Making your own Yuletide decorations at home for a fraction of the cost of those gilded ready-made arrangements is fun for the whole family. With just the press of a button, you can give sparkle and brilliance to branches, holly and pine cones. The magic: the handy aerosol spray cans of gold, silver and bright colored paints.

Your own ingenuity will produce wonders. However, here are a few simple arrangements which you may wish to use as a basic pattern for your own designs.

To make a decorative mantle display, arrange branches of spruce or pine in a fan-shaped design. Fasten the branch ends with a bit of wire to hold the greens in place. Then spray with gold paint. While the branches are drying, coat a few pine cones in red and green enamel. Roll the cones lightly in glitter while they are still wet. Afterwards, attach the glittering cones to the gold branches. Set the arrangement in an old flower pot that has been camouflaged with a coat of gold paint. Some crumbled paper (gilded, too, of course) will keep the arrangement in place.

For a unique table setting, fashion a miniature Christmas tree of holly branches. The household handy man will find it easy to make the basic Christmas tree triangle with three strips of wood. Tack chicken wire over the open space and attach a wooden base for the stand.

When the foundation is finished, spray it with green paint. While this bit of carpentry is in progress, another family member can get the holly ready. Coat some of the holly entirely with silver paint. Spray only the leaf edges of a second bunch. Leave the rest of the holly in its natural green. Next, attach the holly to the chicken wire, arranging it so that the three types are evenly distributed, until the triangle is completely covered. No wire will be noticeable because of its green coating. Crown the holly tree with a small silver star.

If you will be having a large holiday dinner, these imaginative place settings will make wonderful conversation pieces. From a slab of foam, purchased at the dime store, cut small Christmas tree triangles.

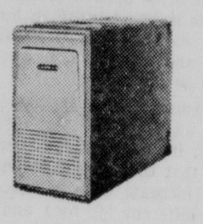

Next, cut the tree bases and attach to the triangle trees with toothpicks. Then spray with gold or silver paint. While they are still fairly wet, sprinkle the trees with lacy snowflakes cut from paper doilies. Then decorate with tiny brilliant sequins. Finally, attach a star to the top of each tree with a tiny pin. If you wish, write the name of a guest on each star, before putting it in place.

Of course, the Christmas tree is always the star of the show. Your metallic coatings can be part of this major decoration, too. Spray the tips of some branches in silver or gold. The glittering effect will enhance your tree ornaments and lights.

And speaking of tree ornaments, why not enamel the name of each family member and guest who will be spending the holidays with you on some large balls. Children thrill to this special treatment, and we're all children at Christmas time.

Sump Pump Averts Water In Basement

CHICAGO — The installation of a sump pump or cellar drainer as a protection against flooded basements is recommended. This type of a pump is made especially for the purpose of keeping basements dry.

The pump is located in a well or sump to which surplus water in the basement drains. The pump is equipped with a float valve which starts the motor automatically when the water in the sump reaches the danger point. The pump continues to operate until all the water has been drained from the sump.

Sump pumps are made in various sizes to meet varying load requirements. Householders who have basement water problems are advised to consult with an experienced plumbing contractor who will be glad to recommend the type of pump which will best serve the purpose, the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau says.

Protection against flooded basement is more essential today than ever before because of the possibility of damage to motors used with oil burners and automatic laundry machines. The general use of the basement for recreation and hobbies also points to the need for flood protection.

Also available as a means of providing further protection against the reverse flow of sewage during heavy storms is an automatically operated backwater valve. This valve is installed in the pipe leading to the sewer. When the sewer starts to back up, the valve automatically closes.

'Guard' Training Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 121st Tactical Fighter Wing of the Ohio Air National Guard will hold its summer training session July 22 to Aug. 5, wing commander Col. Dale E. Shafer Jr. has announced. The training session, involving about 2,000 guardsmen from Columbus, Mansfield and Springfield, will be at Collins Field near Alpena, Mich.

Pay Increase May Go Along To Consumer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Major steel producers reluctantly agree the market will not support a price increase when the industry's wage rates go up Thursday, Steel Magazine said today.

The publication feels the wage increase will be passed along to consumers as soon as market conditions warrant — the only real questions being the effective date, the amount, and which company will make the first move.

"Chances are there will be no across-the-board increase initiated by the largest producer — U.S. Steel," the weekly journal said.

With the exception of steel products under strongest competition from imports—which may remain untouched — price increases will probably be restricted to around $3 to $4, Steel predicted.

The magazine reported third quarter earnings of iron and steel companies averaged only 3.4 per cent of sales. It added that fourth quarter results will be worse if nothing is done to offset the Dec. 1 employment cost increases.

Steel said production this week will rebound part way from the low point to which it dropped in last week's Thanksgiving holiday period. The operating rate fell 4.1 percentage points last week to 47.5 per cent of capacity, with a yield of about 1,352,000 net tons of ingots.

Police Hunt Clues In Death Of Cadiz Area Woman, 68

CADIZ, Ohio (AP) — Harrison County authorities today sought clues in the death of a 68-year-old woman whose bound body was found in her home six miles southeast of here.

The body of Mrs. Angelinova DiPaolo, widow of a coal miner killed in a traffic accident 11 years ago, was found Saturday night. Her hands were tied to a bed and a handkerchief was stuffed in her mouth.

Coroner G. E. Henderson said the woman died from exposure. The house was cold because the fire in the furnace had gone out. Henderson said she had been dead about 48 hours when found, but he could not tell how long she had been bound to the bed before she died.

The coroner said Mrs. DiPaolo had not been criminally assaulted.

The body was found after a youth noticed a broken window in a door at the woman's home. He called a neighbor who notified authorities.

Sheriff Harry Bailey said the house had been ransacked. About a year ago Mrs. DiPaolo beat off three men who tried to break into her home.

Man Dies In Shooting At Home In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — A man identified by police as Claude J. Rice, 53, of Cleveland was shot and killed Sunday night after he broke down the front door of the house where his wife was staying.

Police held his wife, Lessie, 33, without charge.

Officers said Mrs. Rice, a beauty salon operator, told them she fired once at her husband with a revolver after he kicked in the door at the home of her mother, Mrs. Anna Walker. She said she and a daughter, Daphne, 11, went there after Rice hit her with a pop bottle Saturday night.

Ohio Campuses Slated For Fire Inspections

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Fire Marshal Wilson M. McLaughlin said today his investigators plan to inspect every Ohio college campus to determine if fire hazards exist in any of the buildings. He hopes to begin the project by April 1.

The inspection is prompted by the Nov. 13 fire that destroyed Weston Hall, the major classroom building at Defiance College, he said. The blaze in the 52-year-old building was touched off by faulty electric wiring, McLaughlin said he was informed.

Dayton Woman Killed

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A Dayton, Ohio, woman was killed and three other Dayton residents were injured in a two-car collision Sunday 15 miles north of here. Dead is Mrs. Clara Ratliff, 71. 'Do-It-Yourself' Ideas Offered On Decorations

Making your own Yuletide decorations at home for a fraction of the cost of those gilded ready-made arrangements is fun for the whole family. With just the press of a button, you can give sparkle and brilliance to branches, holly and pine cones. The magic: the handy aerosol spray cans of gold, silver and bright colored paints.

Your own ingenuity will produce wonders. However, here are a few simple arrangements which you may wish to use as a basic pattern for your own designs.

To make a decorative mantle display, arrange branches of spruce or pine in a fan-shaped design. Fasten the branch ends with a bit of wire to hold the greens in place. Then spray with gold paint. While the branches are drying, coat a few pine cones in red and green enamel. Roll the cones lightly in glitter while they are still wet. Afterwards, attach the glittering cones to the gold branches. Set the arrangement in an old flower pot that has been camouflaged with a coat of gold paint. Some crumbled paper (gilded, too, of course) will keep the arrangement in place.

For a unique table setting, fashion a miniature Christmas tree of holly branches. The household handy man will find it easy to make the basic Christmas tree triangle with three strips of wood. Tack chicken wire over the open space and attach a wooden base for the stand.

When the foundation is finished, spray it with green paint. While this bit of carpentry is in progress, another family member can get the holly ready. Coat some of the holly entirely with silver paint. Spray only the leaf edges of a second bunch. Leave the rest of the holly in its natural green. Next, attach the holly to the chicken wire, arranging it so that the three types are evenly distributed, until the triangle is completely covered. No wire will be noticeable because of its green coating. Crown the holly tree with a small silver star.

If you will be having a large holiday dinner, these imaginative place settings will make wonderful conversation pieces. From a slab of foam, purchased at the dime store, cut small Christmas tree triangles.

Next, cut the tree bases and attach to the triangle trees with toothpicks. Then spray with gold or silver paint. While they are still fairly wet, sprinkle the trees with lacy snowflakes cut from paper doilies. Then decorate with tiny brilliant sequins. Finally, attach a star to the top of each tree with a tiny pin. If you wish, write the name of a guest on each star, before putting it in place.

Of course, the Christmas tree is always the star of the show. Your metallic coatings can be part of this major decoration, too. Spray the tips of some branches in silver or gold. The glittering effect will enhance your tree ornaments and lights.

And speaking of tree ornaments, why not enamel the name of each family member and guest who will be spending the holidays with you on some large balls. Children thrill to this special treatment, and we're all children at Christmas time.

New Mortar Used In Walls

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

What's new? After five years of research, a new high-bond mortar is under development which it is claimed could reduce clay masonry walls to half their current thickness and provide even greater structural strength.

A full-scale program of field testing in a wide variety of walls is under way. The plan is to present the data to national code authorities for approval of the higher allowable stresses for clay masonry that engineers say appear practical through this mortar development.

The project has been a joint effort of a leading manufacturer of chemically engineered building products and the Structural Clay Products Research Foundation, which is the research arm of the brick and tile industry in the United States and Canada.

A residential version of a commercial acoustical - aluminum ceiling has been introduced for the do-it-yourselfer.

It's a suspended ceiling system, assembled from interlocking "tee" members on a two foot-by-two foot, or two foot-by-four foot module. Tabs on the ends of the intersecting tees are locked into place with a special tool to assure rapid assembly and high tool strength.

A perforated strap suspends the aluminum grid from any existing ceiling. Panels are then dropped into the modules to complete the project. Provisions for light fixtures are also designed into the system.

It's a home package, with all the components squared or grooved as in furniture construction. No measuring or marking is needed. Everything fits into place. Joints, window openings, ridges, rafters, etc., are all dadoed.

While kitchen equipment, plumbing, heating, electric wiring and other utilities are not part of the package, they can be obtained separately from the same outfit. Company president Jack Deutsch say that even when professionals are called in, considerable savings can be effected.

House Numbering Plan Advanced By Trustees

The trustees voted to have forms printed for home-owners to fill out in the numbering process. The work will start in the Hill Addition. Maps already have been made of this area and are being made of other areas.

The Curry Addition near the Country Club probably will be next. The road crew was authorized to have some trees removed from along 1st Ave. in LaCroft.

The firemen were authorized to purchase pitchforks. The trustees and Simon Hall, clerk, attended a public hearing this afternoon at the Courthouse at Lisbon on closing a section of Valley Ave. in Dry Run Hollow. The hearing was before the county commissioners. The road has never been opened and in some spots is covered by the run.

The next meeting will be Dec. 9.

Lana Turner Marries Fred May, Sportsman

The blonde actress, still beautiful at 40, was wed Sunday night to rancher-sportsman Fred May, 43, her steady escort for six months.

Cheryl has been a ward of Superior Court since the 1958 stabbing of Johnny Stompanato, her mother's lover. A coroner's jury declared the killing a justifiable homicide. Cheryl, a lonely, troubled girl, was put in a county-operated home for wayward girls.

Miss Turner's secretary said she understood Cheryl will live with the newlyweds.

Sander Takes Old Varnish Off In Hurry

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We're planning on refinishing our living room floor. How do we get off the old varnish, which is very discolored?

Answer: The varnish can be taken off with varnish remover, but this can be a tedious job where such a large surface is involved. The more efficient way is to use a power sander, which can be rented by the day.

* * *

Question: I have read conflicting opinions about whether stain applied to wood should be sealed before applying the finishing coats of varnish. Can you give me the answer?

Answer: The most widely-used stains by non-professionals have an oil base. This is the kind you usually get when you walk into a paint or hardware store and ask for a wood stain.

It is necessary to give this type of stain a coat of shellac or other sealer before applying the varnish. And be very sure the stain is thoroughly dry before putting on the varnish. If a water stain or a non-grain raising stain is used, then a sealer is not necessary, although some wood finishers believe it enhances the final coat.

New York Holds Man As Bomber

NEW YORK (AP)—A fugitive from a mental institution—questioned by police in the city's recent outbreak of Sunday and holiday bombings—was sent to Bellevue Hospital for observation today.

Detectives said Walter Long, 29, admitted stealing explosives from construction jobs and that he was in the vicinity of all the blasts except one.

But Long denied he set off any of the explosions, police said.

In five bombings here, one person has been killed and 59 injured. Four of the blasts were on Sundays and a fifth on Columbus Day.

Long escaped from Manhattan State Hospital July 5 and for several months has worked as a construction laborer and powder-shack watchman. He was working on a street project in Port Richmond, Staten Island, at the time of his arrest.

More than 600 members of the police department worked on the bomber case. Long was picked up after police checked membership records of all trade unions handling explosives to locate men with past histories of mental illness.

Masquers Play Draws 200 At Westgate School

Two hundred attended the performance of the "Beauty and the Beast" by the Beaver Local High School Masquers Club Saturday afternoon at Westgate School.

Approximately $50 was raised, according to Harry West, director. He said the money will be used to purchase new stage microphones at Beaver Local.

Congo Hunts Ex-Premier

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba slipped secretly out of his guarded residence Sunday night and left for Stanleyville, his political stronghold.

Aides issued a statement saying he had gone to that capital of Oriental Province for a few days to attend the funeral of his infant daughter. His stay will be "of a limited duration," it added, and he will return for a unity conference of Congolese leaders.

Lumumba's night departure escaped the vigilance of the Congolese army, under orders from Col. Joseph Mobutu to arrest him. Lumumba's residence has been guarded by United Nations soldiers.

Mobutu and President Joseph Kasavubu were in Brazzaville, capital of the Congo Republic across the river from this capital, when they got the news.

Kasavubu has promised to call a conference of all factions in the Congo, including Lumumba's, to try to unify the troubled young nation.

A U.N. spokesman confirmed that Lumumba asked his U.N. guard last week for permission to attend the funeral in Stanleyvulle but was refused. The child died in a Swiss clinic and recently was returned to Leopoldville.

New Mortar Used In Walls

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

What's new? After five years of research, a new high-bond mortar is under development which it is claimed could reduce clay masonry walls to half their current thickness and provide even greater structural strength.

A full-scale program of field testing in a wide variety of walls is under way. The plan is to present the data to national code authorities for approval of the higher allowable stresses for clay masonry that engineers say appear practical through this mortar development.

The project has been a joint effort of a leading manufacturer of chemically engineered building products and the Structural Clay Products Research Foundation, which is the research arm of the brick and tile industry in the United States and Canada.

A residential version of a commercial acoustical - aluminum ceiling has been introduced for the do-it-yourselfer.

It's a suspended ceiling system, assembled from interlocking "tee" members on a two foot-by-two foot, or two foot-by-four foot module. Tabs on the ends of the intersecting tees are locked into place with a special tool to assure rapid assembly and high tool strength.

A perforated strap suspends the aluminum grid from any existing ceiling. Panels are then dropped into the modules to complete the project. Provisions for light fixtures are also designed into the system.

It's a home package, with all the components squared or grooved as in furniture construction. No measuring or marking is needed. Everything fits into place. Joints, window openings, ridges, rafters, etc., are all dadoed.

While kitchen equipment, plumbing, heating, electric wiring and other utilities are not part of the package, they can be obtained separately from the same outfit. Company president Jack Deutsch say that even when professionals are called in, considerable savings can be effected.

House Numbering Plan Advanced By Trustees

The trustees voted to have forms printed for home-owners to fill out in the numbering process. The work will start in the Hill Addition. Maps already have been made of this area and are being made of other areas.

The Curry Addition near the Country Club probably will be next. The road crew was authorized to have some trees removed from along 1st Ave. in LaCroft.

The firemen were authorized to purchase pitchforks. The trustees and Simon Hall, clerk, attended a public hearing this afternoon at the Courthouse at Lisbon on closing a section of Valley Ave. in Dry Run Hollow. The hearing was before the county commissioners. The road has never been opened and in some spots is covered by the run.

The next meeting will be Dec. 9.

Lana Turner Marries Fred May, Sportsman

The blonde actress, still beautiful at 40, was wed Sunday night to rancher-sportsman Fred May, 43, her steady escort for six months.

Cheryl has been a ward of Superior Court since the 1958 stabbing of Johnny Stompanato, her mother's lover. A coroner's jury declared the killing a justifiable homicide. Cheryl, a lonely, troubled girl, was put in a county-operated home for wayward girls.

Miss Turner's secretary said she understood Cheryl will live with the newlyweds.

Sander Takes Old Varnish Off In Hurry

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We're planning on refinishing our living room floor. How do we get off the old varnish, which is very discolored?

Answer: The varnish can be taken off with varnish remover, but this can be a tedious job where such a large surface is involved. The more efficient way is to use a power sander, which can be rented by the day.

Question: I have read conflicting opinions about whether stain applied to wood should be sealed before applying the finishing coats of varnish. Can you give me the answer?

Answer: The most widely-used stains by non-professionals have an oil base. This is the kind you usually get when you walk into a paint or hardware store and ask for a wood stain.

It is necessary to give this type of stain a coat of shellac or other sealer before applying the varnish. And be very sure the stain is thoroughly dry before putting on the varnish. If a water stain or a non-grain raising stain is used, then a sealer is not necessary, although some wood finishers believe it enhances the final coat.

New York Holds Man As Bomber

NEW YORK (AP)—A fugitive from a mental institution—questioned by police in the city's recent outbreak of Sunday and holiday bombings—was sent to Bellevue Hospital for observation today.

Detectives said Walter Long, 29, admitted stealing explosives from construction jobs and that he was in the vicinity of all the blasts except one.

But Long denied he set off any of the explosions, police said.

In five bombings here, one person has been killed and 59 injured. Four of the blasts were on Sundays and a fifth on Columbus Day.

Long escaped from Manhattan State Hospital July 5 and for several months has worked as a construction laborer and powder-shack watchman. He was working on a street project in Port Richmond, Staten Island, at the time of his arrest.

More than 600 members of the police department worked on the bomber case. Long was picked up after police checked membership records of all trade unions handling explosives to locate men with past histories of mental illness.

Missing Youth Found; Staged Fake Drowning

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) —Gordon Hughett, 17, of nearby Danville, has turned up safe in a cabin in eastern Knox County after being missing a week. Skindivers had searched the Mohican River for his body after his turning motor scooter was found near the river bank, off a highway in the extreme northeast end of the county.

Authorities quoted the boy as saying he staged his disappearance because of personal problems. He told officers he tried to make it appear he had drowned. An uncle found him in the cabin which Gordon had stocked with provisions.

Hand Grenade Found

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A man who found a World War II hand grenade in an old shack in back of his home says he doesn't know how it got there. The grenade was in a rusty metal box when it was discovered Sunday by Ray Fields, 33, whose farm is on the Farmersville - West Carrollton Road southwest of here. He said children often played in the shack. Air Force demolition experts will try today to blow the grenade into smithereens.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Stimulate Child's Urge To Learn

It is wonderful when bright little children under three or five are stimulated in their urge to 3½: "The older one knows his alphabet, not by rote but can print each letter upon request, as well as his name and many words. "I read to the boys every day (not nursery rhymes, which to me are senseless, but on factual subjects). We read from the Golden Book Encyclopaedia, and they have an amazing retention of facts and interest on the most diversified subjects. They beg to be read to.

Dr. Garry Meyers

"THEY MODEL clay beautifully. They construct bridges, houses, trains, etc., and show an amazing understanding of rockets and satellites made from toys and little wooden logs and blocks. They count and do simple addition.

"The older one draws loaded car transports with cab, trailer and double deck loaded with six cars. They can identify car makes and models.

"Unfortunately, their only contact with other children is in Sunday school, where they presently are competing with five-year-olds.

"Kindergarten teachers feel it is not good to encourage them in these ways. They say it makes teaching hard for them to keep their interest in 'important things like stringing beads'.

"We live in an area where there will never be advanced classes for special students. Is it fair to continue to challenge them?"

My reply in part:

NOT ALL kindergarten programs consist of stringing beads. There are many other activities, from some of which even your bright youngsters might profit. Yet they probably would be bored by kindergarten.

It's wonderful that you have stimulated these tots intellectually, and in making things with their hands.

In your zeal, you have encouraged them in learning many skills and facts they will be exposed to in the early grades. But their achievement in writing letters and manipulating numbers, while appealing to adults and older children, won't endear them to other children of their age.

I advise that you go on somewhat as you have, but read more to them from poetry like that of Robert Louis Stevenson and A. A. Milne, and lots of folklore and fanciful stories for firing their imaginations.

WHEN THEY enter school, continue with such reading, going on to more advanced stories, as well as some factual reading. This you can do, however dull their school work might seem to them to be.

Most of all, they need to spend a lot of time at normal fun with other children of their age.

'Sideline' Arrest

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Police say a local cobbler's shop wasn't paying enough attention to soles and heels. The owner and his assistant were arrested for bookmaking.

3 Motorists Forfeit In Chester Hearings

Two forfeited bonds when they failed to appear before Chester Mayor Ray Collins Saturday, including Beryl Reaser, 35, of North Ridgeville, Ohio, who had posted a $110.50 for reckless operation.

He was cited by Police Chief Harold Davis in Chester Wednesday night after his car collided with another at 1st St. and Carolina Ave. He apparently failed to stop for the traffic signal, witnesses told Davis.

His car struck one operated by Richard K. Reeder, 16, of 3rd St. who was driving south on 1st St.

Larry Rodriquez, 21, of Burgettstown forfeited a $15.50 on a charge of hazardous driving. He was cited Monday by Patrolman Clarence Lennens on Route 30, Chester.

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) —Gordon Hughett, 17, of nearby Danville, has turned up safe in a cabin in eastern Knox County after being missing a week. Skindivers had searched the Mohican River for his body after his turning motor scooter was found near the river bank, off a highway in the extreme northeast end of the county.

Authorities quoted the boy as saying he staged his disappearance because of personal problems. He told officers he tried to make it appear he had drowned. An uncle found him in the cabin which Gordon had stocked with provisions.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Stimulate Child's Urge To Learn

It is wonderful when bright little children under three or five are stimulated in their urge to 3½: "The older one knows his alearn. However, it's doubtful whether the emphasis should be on the kind of facts and skills they will eventually learn in the early grades. A mother writes from Michigan about her sons 2½ and phabet, not by rote but can print each letter upon request, as well as his name and many words. "I read to the boys every day (not nursery rhymes, which to me are senseless, but on factual subjects). We read from the Golden Book Encyclopaedia, and they have an amazing retention of facts and interest on the most diversified subjects. They beg to be read to.

"THEY MODEL clay beautifully. They construct bridges, houses, trains, etc., and show an amazing understanding of rockets and satellites made from toys and little wooden logs and blocks. They count and do simple addition.

"The older one draws loaded car transports with cab, trailer and double deck loaded with six cars. They can identify car makes and models.

"Unfortunately, their only contact with other children is in Sunday school, where they presently are competing with five-year-olds.

"Kindergarten teachers feel it is not good to encourage them in these ways. They say it makes teaching hard for them to keep their interest in 'important things like stringing beads'.

"We live in an area where there will never be advanced classes for special students. Is it fair to continue to challenge them?"

My reply in part:

NOT ALL kindergarten programs consist of stringing beads. There are many other activities, from some of which even your bright youngsters might profit. Yet they probably would be bored by kindergarten.

It's wonderful that you have stimulated these tots intellectually, and in making things with their hands.

In your zeal, you have encouraged them in learning many skills and facts they will be exposed to in the early grades. But their achievement in writing letters and manipulating numbers, while appealing to adults and older children, won't endear them to other children of their age.

I advise that you go on somewhat as you have, but read more to them from poetry like that of Robert Louis Stevenson and A. A. Milne, and lots of folklore and fanciful stories for firing their imaginations.

WHEN THEY enter school, continue with such reading, going on to more advanced stories, as well as some factual reading. This you can do, however dull their school work might seem to them to be.

Most of all, they need to spend a lot of time at normal fun with other children of their age.

Colts Upset; Tracy Leads Steelers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Beaten by a pair of quick-thinking rookies, the Baltimore Colts today were trying to locate the malfunctioning machinery that threatens to stall their drive for a third consecutive National Football League championship.

The Philadelphia Eagles began preparations for a possible title-clincher this week at St. Louis after Sunday's 31-23 victory over the New York Giants virtually put a lock on their first Eastern Conference crown since 1949.

With three games to go, the Eagles (8-1) are 2½ games ahead of the Giants and Cleveland Browns, who lost an opportunity to take over the runner-up spot when they were tied 17-17 by the improving Cardinal.

Thes Colt were upset by San Francisco 30-22 when rookie end Dee Mackey took a 16-yard pass from the third-string quarterback Bobby Waters, then lateralled to R. C. Owens for a 41-yard touchdown play with only a minute and a half remaining.

The loss left Baltimore (6-3) with a slim half-game edge over the onrushing Chicago Bears. The Bears whipped winless Dallas 17-7 for a 5-3-1 record and kept a slight lead over idle Green Bay and the 49ers, tied for third with 5-4 marks.

Pittsburgh defeated Washington 22-10 in the only other game scheduled. Detroit, which beat the Packers Thanksgiving Day, also was idle and Los Angeles drew a bye.

Johnny Unitas threw three touchdown strikes for the Colts—10 yards to Ray Berry, 6 to Alex Hawkins and 65 to Lenny Moore—but the Baltimore quarterback had five aerials intercepted and lost the ball once on a fumble.

The Eagles came from behind twice for their second triumph over the Giant on successive weekends as Norm Van Brocklin passed for three touchdowns. His second to Ted Dean, a 49-yarder in the fourth quarter, pulled Philadelphia ahead to stay after second-and third-period field goals by Pat Summerall put New York out front 23-17.

The Giant, defending Eastern champions, had built an early 17-0 lead on TD heaves of 71 and 11 yards from sub quarterback George Shaw to Kyle Rote and a Summerall field goal, but were unable to match the Eagles in the second half.

Cleveland grabbed a 17-7 halftime edge as Milt Plum fired a 20-yard scoring pass to Gern Nagler and connected with Leon Clarke for a two-yard TD flip while Sam Baker kicked a 42-yard field goal. But the Cards (5-4-1) came back to gain a tie on Gerry Perry's 23-yard field goal and a 12-yard touchdown toss from John Roach to Sonny Randle.

The Bears took a 7-0 lead over Dalla (0-10) in the first period on Rick Casares' five-yard touchdown run, then clinched it in the second quarter on a 20-yard scoring pitch from Ed Brown to Johnny Morris. The Cowboys' lone touchdown came on a 64-yard pass from Don Heinrich to Don McIlhenny.

Tom Tracey kicked field goals of 37, 31 and 26 yards and raced 28 yards for a touchdown in the Steelers (4-5-1) triumph against punchless Washington (1-6-2). The Redskins got their only TD when Dick James hauled in a 49-yard aerial from Ralph Guglielmi.

Browns Tied By St. Louis In 17-17 Tilt

A 17-17 tie at St. Louis Sunday with the Cardinals, whom the Browns whipped 28-27 two weeks earlier, left Cleveland in a second-place tie with the New York Giants. The Browns have only a faint mathematical chance to overtake the Eastern Division leaders, the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Eagles' only loss in nine games was a 41-24 pasting they took from Cleveland in the opener, but they avenged that by winning, 31-29, four weeks later. One more Philadelphia victory assures the Eagles of the division crown, regardless of what either New York or Cleveland does in the final three games.

The Browns also lost their rematch with the Pittsburgh Steelers, and next Sunday the return game with the Washington Redskins comes up here. Cleveland beat the last-placers, 31-10, a month ago.

In posting only the third tie of their 11 years play in the NFL, the Browns were outgained on the ground and in the air by the Cards, who made 10 of their points in the second half while they blanked the visitors.

Cleveland was unable to get a single first down in the third quarter.

Milt Plum passes—to Gern Nagler for 20 yards and to Leon Clarke for two — brought both Cleveland touchdowns in the second period. In the same quarter Sam Baker kicked a 42-yard field goal for the Browns' final points.

Plum completed 13 of 19 passes for 108 yards, but lost 20 passing to reduce his net to 88 against a 119-yard net for John Roach, who threw all but one of 20 St. Louis passes and completed nine.

The Cleveland quarterback kept intact his amazing record of no interceptions, but the record almost was broken in the final period. Larry Wilson grabbed the pigskin from Gern Nagler after a short Plum pass, but officials ruled the play a completion and a steal by Wilson.

Five St. Louis passes were intercepted by the Browns — two each by Jim Shofner and Bobby Franklin and one by Don Fleming. Fleming's catch set up the Browns' big chance to break the tie with 3:37 left in the final quarter. He ran the ball 16 yards to the Cards' 33, but the opportunity evaporated when Baker missed a 23-yard field goal try. The angle was difficult, but Coach Brown said afterward it was the sort of kick Baker would cash in "99 out of 100 times."

Mal Hammack, with 80 yards in 17 tries, and John Crow, with 71 yards in 12 carries, led the Cards' ground offense. Crow scored the first St. Louis touchdown by hurdling two yards into the end zone after a 74-yard second-quarter march.

Gerry Perry's 23-yard field goal, his 12th of the season for a Cardinal club record, cut the Browns' lead to 17-10 in the third period. The kick was an aftermath to a fumble by fullback Jimmy Brown, who gained 132 yards in 24 thrusts for the Browns.

St. Louis moved 88 yards in 11 plays to the tying touchdown. Roach hit on four of seven passes in the drive, with Sonny Randle eluding Shofner in the end zone on the 12-yard scoring play.

Muskingum Coach To Speak

Beaver Local Grid Squad Will Be Honored Tuesday

Ed Sherman, who has just completed his most successful season record-wise at Muskingum College, will be guest speaker Tuesday night for the annual football banquet honoring Beaver Local gridders. The banquet will get under way at 6.

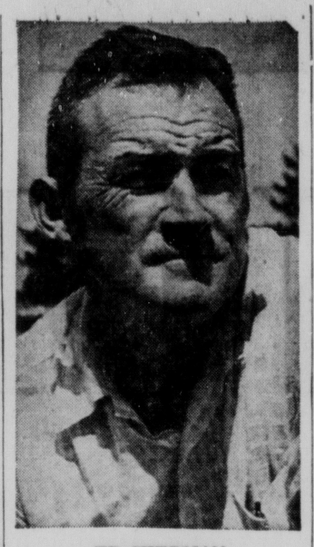

This season the Muskies enjoyed one of the finest campaigns in the school's history, finishing with a 9-0 record and being named among the top 10 small college teams in the nation.

ED SHERMAN
Team Won Ohio Conference.

In 1943, he returned to Muskingum as swimming instructor and as assistant in football and basketball.

The next year he went to Miami University as football assistant to Sid Gillman, then returned to Muskingum in 1945.

He also has served as coach of Muskingum track teams and was well known for years as a football and basketball official at state high school basketball tournaments.

Another highlight of Tuesday's program will be the presentation of the first annual Most Valuable Player award to a member of the Beaver Local squad. Trophies also will be awarded to the best offensive and defensive backs and lineman.

The Beaver Local Boosters Club is sponsoring the banquet for the 1960 squad, which finished the season with a 7-3 record, the first winning season for the Beavers.

Major Leagues Open 10-Day Winter Convention Today

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The annual draft, the majors' selection of minor league players for $25,000 apiece, was the first order of business today as baseball opened its 10-day winter convention.

Philadelphia's Phillies, by virtue of finishing in the National League cellar last season, had first pick. They were expected to select a pitcher to help their sagging mound staff.

Kansas City, last in the American League, was next in line at the bargain counter, followed by the other 14 clubs in reverse order of their 1960 finish.

The new Washington team, expected to operate in the Ameriican League next year, was granted the right to pick two players. However, it had to wait until the end of the regular draft before making its selections.

Some 1,000 minor leaguers are eligible for the draft, including a flock of first-year men who can be purchased for $12,000 each. All players in Triple A who have been in baseball four years are subject to the draft by the majors at the stipulated $25,000 price.

No more than a dozen or so players were expected to be drafted since four clubs have full rosters of 40 players and can not add any more players. The other 12 clubs have a total of 23 places they may fill.

Rumors of trades began to sift through the corridors of the hotel headquarters with the arrival of the big league brass. Not many deals were expected to be completed here, however, because of commissioner Ford Frick's order freezing the 120 players that the eight American League clubs had made available two weeks ago for stocking new franchises.

Rookie, Veteran Top AHL Action

By The Associated Press

The Springfield Indians keep right on winning but for one night at least a rookie and a veteran of 14 seasons grabbed some of the spotlight from the American Hockey League leaders.

The Indians won two games over the weekend, both by 6-2 scores, as they downed Hershey Saturday night and Buffalo Sunday night and maintained their lead of 10 points over the red hot Cleveland Barons. The Barons won their third in as many nights by beating Rochester 4-2 Sunday after defeating Buffalo 6-4 Saturday to take over second place.

It was Freddy Glover, the veteran, who paced the Barons to their triumph over Rochester. He set up three goals, two by Bill Dineen, and ran his total number of points in regular season and playoff games to 1,001.

But it was rookie Warren Hynes who really went to town. The Hershey right wing fired four goals and set up a fifth in the Bears' 8-2 decision over Providence Sunday night.

Detroit's Howe Ties Record

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie Howe, the Detroit Red Wing superstar, holds a tie today for the all-time National Hockey League scoring lead. But he didn't even bother to get a souvenier puck from last night's game to mark the event.

Howe collected two assists Sunday night in leading the Wings to a 2-0 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs. The victory kept the Wings ahead of the NHL race.

The points tied Howe with Maurice Richard at 1,091 points in regular season and playoff games. Howe also jumped to 1,001 regular season points, extending his own record.

Montreal whipped Boston 3-0 and Chicago and New York tied 3-3 in other games Sunday. The play left Detroit ahead with 29 points. Montreal has 28, Chicago 26 and Toronto 25.

Terry Sawchuk, playing as sub goalie this year, took over the Detroit nets while Hank Bassen was out with a sprained ankle. He scored his 92nd shutout in NHL play.

Sawchuk collected a point, his third NHL assist, on Detroit's second assist. He rifled the puck from behind the net to Howe, who steamed into Leaf territory and passed to Norm Ullman. Ullman flicked it in.

The New York Rangers spotted Chicago a two-goal lead, then rallied for the 3-3 tie. Dean Prentice scored the tying goal for the Rangers. Gump Worsley's netminding was a big factor in the Rangers comeback on home ice.

The league is idle until Wednesday when Boston plays at Chicago.

He ran the ball 16 yards to the Cards' 33, but the opportunity evaporated when Baker missed a 23-yard field goal try. The angle was difficult, but Coach Brown said afterward it was the sort of kick Baker would cash in "99 out of 100 times."

Mal Hammack, with 80 yards in 17 tries, and John Crow, with 71 yards in 12 carries, led the Cards' ground offense. Crow scored the first St. Louis touchdown by hurdling two yards into the end zone after a 74-yard second-quarter march.

Gerry Perry's 23-yard field goal, his 12th of the season for a Cardinal club record, cut the Browns' lead to 17-10 in the third period. The kick was an aftermath to a fumble by fullback Jimmy Brown, who gained 132 yards in 24 thrusts for the Browns.

St. Louis moved 88 yards in 11 plays to the tying touchdown. Roach hit on four of seven passes in the drive, with Sonny Randle eluding Shofner in the end zone on the 12-yard scoring play.

Muskingum Coach To Speak

Beaver Local Grid Squad Will Be Honored Tuesday

Ed Sherman, who has just completed his most successful season record-wise at Muskingum College, will be guest speaker Tuesday night for the annual football banquet honoring Beaver Local gridders. The banquet will get under way at 6.

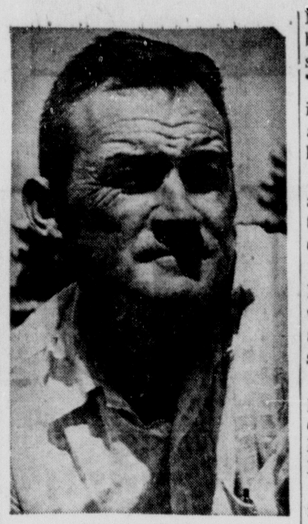

This season the Muskies enjoyed one of the finest campaigns in the school's history, finishing with a 9-0 record and being named among the top 10 small college teams in the nation.

Muskingum won the Ohio Conference championship, the fourth under Sherman who took over as head coach in 1945. Other Ohio titles came in 1949, 1950 and 1955.

Sherman has served as head football coach and athletic director of his alma mater for the last 16 years. None of his predecessors equaled his record.

He is a Newark High School product, having been named an all-Central Ohio League quarterback. He played varsity football for Muskingum, graduating in 1936 and beginning his coaching career the same year at Newark.

ED SHERMAN
Team Won Ohio Conference.

In 1943, he returned to Muskingum as swimming instructor and as assistant in football and basketball.

The next year he went to Miami University as football assistant to Sid Gillman, then returned to Muskingum in 1945.

He also has served as coach of Muskingum track teams and was well known for years as a football and basketball official at state high school basketball tournaments.

Another highlight of Tuesday's program will be the presentation of the first annual Most Valuable Player award to a member of the Beaver Local squad. Trophies also will be awarded to the best offensive and defensive backs and lineman.

The Beaver Local Boosters Club is sponsoring the banquet for the 1960 squad, which finished the season with a 7-3 record, the first winning season for the Beavers.

Major Leagues Open 10-Day Winter Convention Today

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The annual draft, the majors' selection of minor league players for $25,000 apiece, was the first order of business today as baseball opened its 10-day winter convention.

Philadelphia's Phillies, by virtue of finishing in the National League cellar last season, had first pick. They were expected to select a pitcher to help their sagging mound staff.

Kansas City, last in the American League, was next in line at the bargain counter, followed by the other 14 clubs in reverse order of their 1960 finish.

The new Washington team, expected to operate in the Ameriican League next year, was granted the right to pick two players. However, it had to wait until the end of the regular draft before making its selections.

Some 1,000 minor leaguers are eligible for the draft, including a flock of first-year men who can be purchased for $12,000 each. All players in Triple A who have been in baseball four years are subject to the draft by the majors at the stipulated $25,000 price.

No more than a dozen or so players were expected to be drafted since four clubs have full rosters of 40 players and can not add any more players. The other 12 clubs have a total of 23 places they may fill.

Rumors of trades began to sift through the corridors of the hotel headquarters with the arrival of the big league brass. Not many deals were expected to be completed here, however, because of commissioner Ford Frick's order freezing the 120 players that the eight American League clubs had made available two weeks ago for stocking new franchises.

Rookie, Veteran Top AHL Action

By The Associated Press

The Springfield Indians keep right on winning but for one night at least a rookie and a veteran of 14 seasons grabbed some of the spotlight from the American Hockey League leaders.

The Indians won two games over the weekend, both by 6-2 scores, as they downed Hershey Saturday night and Buffalo Sunday night and maintained their lead of 10 points over the red hot Cleveland Barons. The Barons won their third in as many nights by beating Rochester 4-2 Sunday after defeating Buffalo 6-4 Saturday to take over second place.

It was Freddy Glover, the veteran, who paced the Barons to their triumph over Rochester. He set up three goals, two by Bill Dineen, and ran his total number of points in regular season and playoff games to 1,001.

But it was rookie Warren Hynes who really went to town. The Hershey right wing fired four goals and set up a fifth in the Bears' 8-2 decision over Providence Sunday night.

Detroit's Howe Ties Record

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie Howe, the Detroit Red Wing superstar, holds a tie today for the all-time National Hockey League scoring lead. But he didn't even bother to get a souvenier puck from last night's game to mark the event.

Howe collected two assists Sunday night in leading the Wings to a 2-0 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs. The victory kept the Wings ahead of the NHL race.

The points tied Howe with Maurice Richard at 1,091 points in regular season and playoff games. Howe also jumped to 1,001 regular season points, extending his own record.

Montreal whipped Boston 3-0 and Chicago and New York tied 3-3 in other games Sunday. The play left Detroit ahead with 29 points. Montreal has 28, Chicago 26 and Toronto 25.

Terry Sawchuk, playing as sub goalie this year, took over the Detroit nets while Hank Bassen was out with a sprained ankle. He scored his 92nd shutout in NHL play.

Sawchuk collected a point, his third NHL assist, on Detroit's second assist. He rifled the puck from behind the net to Howe, who steamed into Leaf territory and passed to Norm Ullman. Ullman flicked it in.

Howie Glover got the first goal. Howe started the play, passing to Warren Godfrey. Godfrey fired for the goal and Glover tipped it in.

The New York Rangers spotted Chicago a two-goal lead, then rallied for the 3-3 tie. Dean Prentice scored the tying goal for the Rangers. Gump Worsley's netminding was a big factor in the Rangers comeback on home ice.

Gophers, Iowa, Ole Miss In Line For National Grid Title

All Major Bowl Games Are Filled Over Weekend

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There are three major candidates.

1. Minneota. The Gophers climbed all the way from the Big Ten basement last year to a tie with Iowa for the title this season. They wound up with an 8-1 record and were the only team to beat Iowa during the season. They were picked to oppose Washington in the Rose Bowl and were selected as No. 1 in last week's Associated Press poll.

2. Iowa. The Hawkeyes finished just seven points behind Minnesota in last week's poll. They also had an 8-1 record and permitted only Minnesota and Wisconsin to score more than one touchdown. In only one game (against Minnesota) did they score less than three touchdowns.

3. Mississippi. The Rebels wound up their season last Saturday with a solid 35-9 conquest over Mississippi State. They finished behind Minnesota and Iowa in last week's poll but wound up the season as the only team in the top 10 that managed to escape defeat. Their season record was 9-0-1. The tie was a 6-6 standoff with Louisiana State.

Of the three Iowa is the only one out in the cold in the scramble for bowl bids. Big Ten teams are permitted to play only in the Rose Bowl and the selection of Minnesota left the Hawkeyes on the outside looking in.

Rose—Washington (9-1) vs. Minnesota (8-1).

Sugar — Mississippi (9-0-1) vs. Rice (8-2).

Gator—Baylor (8-2) vs. Florida (8-2).

Bluebonnet—Alabama (8-1-1) vs. Texas (7-3).

Sun—New Mexico State (10-0) vs. Utah State (9-1).

With all the scrambling for teams after Saturday's games, the Orange Bowl probably got the prize plum in Navy. Right after the Middies whipped Army, 17-12, to wrap up the Eastern title, they accepted a bid to the Miami game on Jan. 2.

Mississippi decided to return to the Sugar Bowl after winning the Southeastern Conference championship again. Ole Miss will be favored over Rice, which finished operations with a 12-7 beating at the hands of Baylor.

Alabama was tapped to oppose Texas in the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston Dec. 17 right after the Crimson Tide edged Auburn, 3-0, on Tom Brooker's field goal.

The Sun Bowl tapped New Mexico State, one of the two major teams in the country to wind up unbeaten and untied. The Aggies defeated Texas Western, 27-15, in their final game. Yale was the only other major school to get through its schedule unsullied.

With the talent spread so thin over the eight major bowls, the proposed Gotham Bowl in New York, scheduled for Dec. 10, probably will be called off for another year.

The big one Saturday was the Army-Navy game in Philadelphia and it went off pretty much as expected. Navy did all its scoring in the first half on a 4-yard buck by Joe Bellino, a 27-yard field goal by Greg Mather and a 12-yard pass from Hal Spooner to Jim Luper.

Army woke up in the second half and dominated the proceedings. Al Rushatz bulled over from the 1 for two touchdowns. In the end, Bellino had to intercept a pass on the goal line and run it back to the 45 to pull the Middies out of danger.

Notre Dame broke an eight-game losing streak by downing Southern California, 17-0, but the Virginia losing skein went on. The Cavaliers took it on the chin from North Carolina, 35-8, for their 27th straight loss. Oklahoma finished a miserable season the first time in 12 years they haven't been champions of the Big Eight) by defeating Oklahoma State, 17-6. In a major upset, the Air Force Academy decisioned Colorado 16-6.

Warfield Rates High Among Frosh Gridiron Prospects At Ohio State

By PAUL HORNUNG
Columbus Dispatch Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) -- If Coach Woody Hayes can try out a freshman quarterback candidate an hour after the Michigan game, a week later shouldn't be too early to squint speculatively toward Ohio State's 1961 football prospects.

The outlook, 307 days from the TCU kick-off, can be capsuled as "at least as good as 1960—but probably better."

"Ben Schwartzwalder (Syracuse coach) told me a year ago that with the two-team system you never get murdered by graduation," Hayes remarked Saturday as he and freshman coach Ernie Godfrey listed prospects returning and upcoming. "We lost 20 seniors, some fine athletes. But we'll have a good start for next year."

Five places will be open on the offensive unit, five on the defensive unit. But, thanks to the platoon system, Hayes will have half a dozen experienced hands available in addition to the dozen '60 regulars on which to build for 1961. He has nine men returning who played 200 minutes or more, six others 100 minutes and over.

That could be called a substantial nucleus.

The '59 yearling crop, considered the best in Hayes' 10-year tenure, sent up five starters and a total of eight who played 100 game minutes or more. It also included half a dozen others who saw only limited service this year, but figure to move up next fall.

"We've got the big backs you need in the Western Conference," Godfrey summarizes, "and we needed linemen and we got some."

Godfrey, alarmed over Ohio State's recruiting setbacks a few years ago, rubs his hands in a gesture of relish and grins: "We're getting some horses. I'm happy about the future."

The "big backs" are Paul Warfield, All-Ohio phenom from Warren, who packs only 178 fantastically co-ordinated pounds on a 6-foot frame, but is expected to play at about 185 next year; Matt Snell, 6-1, 210-pound prize from Long Island; Tony Hall, 5-10, 185-pound brother of Olympic diver Sam Hall, from Dayton; Vince Eysoldt, 6-2, 210, from Springfield; and Willy Jones, 5-11, 185, also from Warren.

"Warfield and Snell — well," Godfrey sputters, fumbling momentarily for superlatives, "they're the greatest 1-2 punch we've ever had at this school. They're another Blanchard-Davis, as a combination."

The Warfield-Snell halfbacking combination may be broken up, however, without Godfrey's blessing.

Hayes has come up, as he has so often in the past, without an experienced replacement at quarterback. He's never been one to "groom" a successor and this year was no exception. Tom Matte played about 95 per cent of the offensive quarterback role.

Since Matte convinced him that a quarterback should be a good runner, Hayes is thinking seriously of converting Warfield. The latter's half-hour workout a week ago Saturday (after the Michigan game) convinced Hayes all the more that Warfield may be his next running-passing field general.

Joe Sparma, 6-2, 190-pound All-Ohioan who led Massillon for three years, is the No. 1 freshman quarterback, followed by Larry Marmie, Barnesville. Sparma, is described as a "better than average passer, but no Matte as a runner." He would join Bill Mrukowski and John Mummey as the leading quarterback candidates, if Warfield stays at halfback.

But Godfrey believes he has some help coming. Keith Smith, 6-3, 214, from Dayton, is an excellent pass receiver as well as a terrific punter. Dick Van Raaphorst, 6-1, 209, from Ligonier, Pa., is another.

As always, the yearling roster is dotted with youngsters who haven't been mentioned here, but who might be mentioned more as spring and fall practice progress.

"We'll have a good football team," Hayes nodded reassuringly after this brief rundown of prospects. And he went back to planning for spring practice.

Palmer Wins Mobile Open; Sets $ Mark

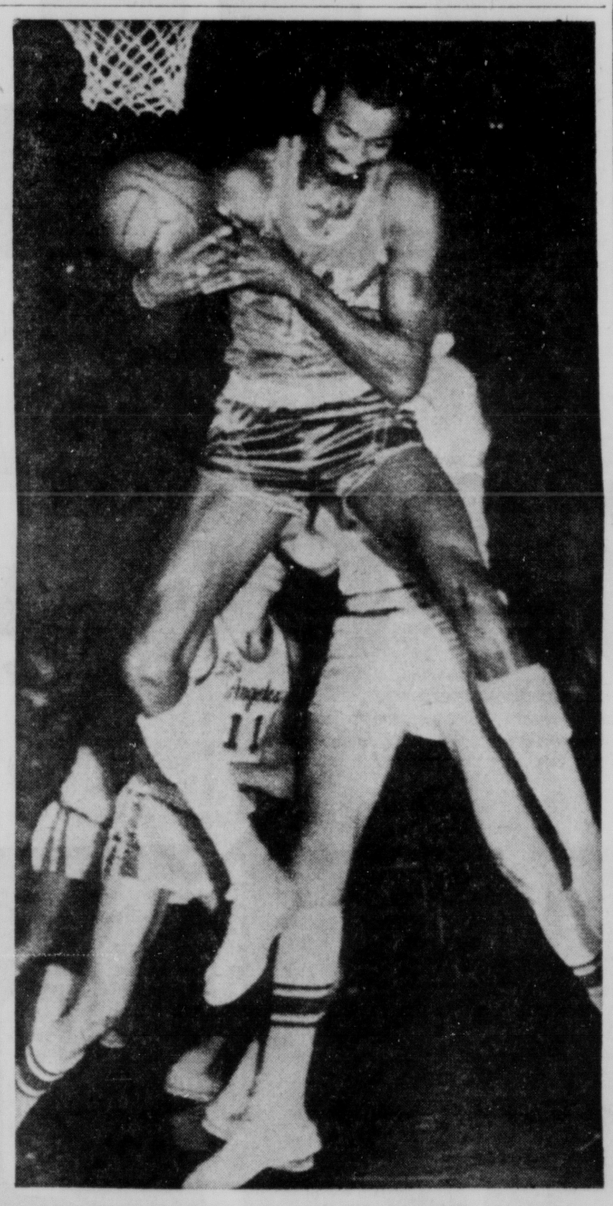

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Arnold Palmer now is the top all-time money winner on the PGA tournament tour for a single year — an objective he has long wished to achieve.

The 34-year-old shot maker from Ligonier, Pa., accomplished the cherished ambition Sunday by taking the Mobile Open Golf Tournament with one of his fabulous finishes just as he did the Masters and the Pensacola Open earlier this year.

The Mobile victory was worth $2,000. This brought his earnings on the official tournament circuit to $73,716.19 and surpassed the $72,835.83 figure set by Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in 1956.

In all, Palmer played in 25 tournaments this year. He won 8 of them and finished among the top five players 16 times. Sam Snead set the pro circuit record in 1950 when he took nine tournaments.

Sammy Oates, Hardin-Simmons athlete, has been chosen to participate in the international Deaf Olympics in Helsinki, Finland, next summer.

Ours Paced Wellsville In Scoring For 1960

Season statistics compiled by Mike Wilson, team statistician, seem to bear out the vital role a quarterback plays in the success of any squad. The junior star completed 47.5 per cent of his passes, finished second in total rushing yardage, and emerged as the teams' top touchdown producer.

For the second straight year, halfback Dick Brown finished as Wellsville's top ground gainer, carrying 89 times for 678 yards—a 7.6 average per try. The senior halfback also scored eight touchdowns and three conversions.

Ours threw 82 passes, completed 39 and had only five intercepted. His favorite receiver was lanky senior end Bob Kiggans, who hauled in 22. Ours carried 91 times, gaining 523 yards. He was the team's top scorer with 11 touchdowns, and 10 conversions for 86 points—just four shy of the school record.

But the team eclipsed one record by scoring a total of 293 points for the season, while limiting the opposition to only 101. The old team scoring record was 240 points.

Los Angeles Can Take Western Title Sunday

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American Football Leagues Los Angeles Chargers can take the Western Division title next Sunday if they stay on their patented recovery formula.

The Chargers were belted a week ago by Buffalo 32-3, which caused coach Sid Gillman to point out that "the last time we were beaten badly we came back to win four straight and take the lead."

Sure enough, back they came Sunday, beating Oakland 52-28 to drop the Raiders into a second place tie with Dallas. The Chargers and Raiders go at it again next week, and a Los Angeles victory would insure at least a tie and eliminate Oakland. A victory, plus a Dallas defeat by Houston would clinch matters.

Buffalo blew a 24-point lead in the fourth quarter and were held to a 38-38 tie by the Denver Broncos. No other games were scheduled.

Old reliable Jack Kemp was the man who cranked up the Chargers and sent them on their way. He tossed scoring passes of 69 yards to Don Norton and 63 to Paul Lowe.

Gene Mingo's 15-yard field goal in the final four seconds provided Denver with its tie, but some fancy passing by quarterback Frank Tripucka saved a lot of leg work. Trip hit his favorite target, Lionel Taylor, with three successive TD pass that sliced down a 38-14 Buffalo lead.

Bill Atkins kicked field goals of 20, 13 and 31 yards while Elbert Dubenion's twisting, dodging 76 run was the highlight of Buffalo's attack, which seemingly had the game tucked away after a 21-point third period.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average near or a little below normal. Normal high 42 north to 45 south, normal low 28-30. Colder Tuesday and Wednesday, warmer Thursday and Friday, turning cooler Saturday. Precipitation will total about .4 inch in showers tonight, Tuesday and again about Friday or Saturday. Chance of snow flurries north and central Tuesday.

Michigan Awaits Record Road Bid

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan, already the nation's top road building state, will set a new national record Dec. 7 when it opens bids on projects totaling an estimated $45 million.

Ohio had a record $43,102,231 bid-letting session Dec. 15, 1959, and plans an opening Tuesday which will involve projects with a value of up to $31.9 million.

"It will be the largest contract letting ever held by a state highway department anywhere in the United States," said Michigan Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, in remarks prepared for today's opening of the 46th annual meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

More than 2,000 state highway officials from 50 states, including Ohio, Puerto Rico and Mexico are in Detroit for the convention, which ends Friday.

Not included in the $45 million contract figure, according to a Michigan Highway Department spokesman, is an estimated $15 million already spent on these projects for engineering and right of way costs.

Gophers, Iowa, Ole Miss In Line For National Grid Title

All Major Bowl Games Are Filled Over Weekend

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

With all the major bowls filled, the only question remaining on the college football front today was:

Who is the national champion?

There are three major candidates.

1. Minneota. The Gophers climbed all the way from the Big Ten basement last year to a tie with Iowa for the title this season. They wound up with an 8-1 record and were the only team to beat Iowa during the season. They were picked to oppose Washington in the Rose Bowl and were selected as No. 1 in last week's Associated Press poll.

2. Iowa. The Hawkeyes finished just seven points behind Minnesota in last week's poll. They also had an 8-1 record and permitted only Minnesota and Wisconsin to score more than one touchdown. In only one game (against Minnesota) did they score less than three touchdowns.

3. Mississippi. The Rebels wound up their season last Saturday with a solid 35-9 conquest over Mississippi State. They finished behind Minnesota and Iowa in last week's poll but wound up the season as the only team in the top 10 that managed to escape defeat. Their season record was 9-0-1. The tie was a 6-6 standoff with Louisiana State.

Of the three Iowa is the only one out in the cold in the scramble for bowl bids. Big Ten teams are permitted to play only in the Rose Bowl and the selection of Minnesota left the Hawkeyes on the outside looking in.

Rose—Washington (9-1) vs. Minnesota (8-1).

Sugar — Mississippi (9-0-1) vs. Rice (8-2).

Gator—Baylor (8-2) vs. Florida (8-2).

Bluebonnet—Alabama (8-1-1) vs. Texas (7-3).

With all the scrambling for teams after Saturday's games, the Orange Bowl probably got the prize plum in Navy. Right after the Middies whipped Army, 17-12, to wrap up the Eastern title, they accepted a bid to the Miami game on Jan. 2.

Mississippi decided to return to the Sugar Bowl after winning the Southeastern Conference championship again. Ole Miss will be favored over Rice, which finished operations with a 12-7 beating at the hands of Baylor.

Alabama was tapped to oppose Texas in the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston Dec. 17 right after the Crimson Tide edged Auburn, 3-0, on Tom Brooker's field goal.

The Sun Bowl tapped New Mexico State, one of the two major teams in the country to wind up unbeaten and untied. The Aggies defeated Texas Western, 27-15, in their final game. Yale was the only other major school to get through its schedule unsullied.

With the talent spread so thin over the eight major bowls, the proposed Gotham Bowl in New York, scheduled for Dec. 10, probably will be called off for another year.

The big one Saturday was the Army-Navy game in Philadelphia and it went off pretty much as expected. Navy did all its scoring in the first half on a 4-yard buck by Joe Bellino, a 27-yard field goal by Greg Mather and a 12-yard pass from Hal Spooner to Jim Luper.

Army woke up in the second half and dominated the proceedings. Al Rushatz bulled over from the 1 for two touchdowns. In the end, Bellino had to intercept a pass on the goal line and run it back to the 45 to pull the Middies out of danger.

Notre Dame broke an eight-game losing streak by downing Southern California, 17-0, but the Virginia losing skein went on. The Cavaliers took it on the chin from North Carolina, 35-8, for their 27th straight loss. Oklahoma finished a miserable season the first time in 12 years they haven't been champions of the Big Eight) by defeating Oklahoma State, 17-6. In a major upset, the Air Force Academy decisioned Colorado 16-6.

Warfield Rates High Among Frosh Gridiron Prospects At Ohio State

By PAUL HORNUNG
Columbus Dispatch Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Coach Woody Hayes can try out a freshman quarterback candidate an hour after the Michigan game, a week later shouldn't be too early to squint speculatively toward Ohio State's 1961 football prospects.

The outlook, 307 days from the TCU kick-off, can be capsuled as "at least as good as 1960—but probably better."

"Ben Schwartzwalder (Syracuse coach) told me a year ago that with the two-team system you never get murdered by graduation," Hayes remarked Saturday as he and freshman coach Ernie Godfrey listed prospects returning and upcoming. "We lost 20 seniors, some fine athletes. But we'll have a good start for next year."

Five places will be open on the offensive unit, five on the defensive unit. But, thanks to the platoon system, Hayes will have half a dozen experienced hands available in addition to the dozen '60 regulars on which to build for 1961. He has nine men returning who played 200 minutes or more, six others 100 minutes and over.

That could be called a substantial nucleus.

Godfrey stipulates that "this year's freshman squad is different, but it's going to make as much contribution to the varsity as last year's squad did."

The '59 yearling crop, considered the best in Hayes' 10-year tenure, sent up five starters and a total of eight who played 100 game minutes or more. It also included half a dozen others who saw only limited service this year, but figure to move up next fall.

"We've got the big backs you need in the Western Conference," Godfrey summarizes, "and we needed linemen and we got some."

Godfrey, alarmed over Ohio State's recruiting setbacks a few years ago, rubs his hands in a gesture of relish and grins: "We're getting some horses. I'm happy about the future."

The "big backs" are Paul Warfield, All-Ohio phenom from Warren, who packs only 178 fantastically co-ordinated pounds on a 6-foot frame, but is expected to play at about 185 next year; Matt Snell, 6-1, 210-pound prize from Long Island; Tony Hall, 5-10, 185-pound brother of Olympic diver Sam Hall, from Dayton; Vince Eysoldt, 6-2, 210, from Springfield; and Willy Jones, 5-11, 185, also from Warren.

"Warfield and Snell — well," Godfrey sputters, fumbling momentarily for superlatives, "they're the greatest 1-2 punch we've ever had at this school. They're another Blanchard-Davis, as a combination."

The Warfield-Snell halfbacking combination may be broken up, however, without Godfrey's blessing.

Hayes has come up, as he has so often in the past, without an experienced replacement at quarterback. He's never been one to "groom" a successor and this year was no exception. Tom Matte played about 95 per cent of the offensive quarterback role.

Since Matte convinced him that a quarterback should be a good runner, Hayes is thinking seriously of converting Warfield. The latter's half-hour workout a week ago Saturday (after the Michigan game) convinced Hayes all the more that Warfield may be his next running-passing field general.

Even Godfrey concedes the Warren whiz might be pretty fabulous on the roll-out options where Matte gained 682 yards rushing and 737 passing. This switch also would mean that Bob Klein could switch to left half, where he might be more effective, with Snell taking over at right half and Bob Ferguson still handling the fullback chores.

Joe Sparma, 6-2, 190-pound All-Ohioan who led Massillon for three years, is the No. 1 freshman quarterback, followed by Larry Marmie, Barnesville. Sparma, is described as a "better than average passer, but no Matte as a runner." He would join Bill Mrukowski and John Mummey as the leading quarterback candidates, if Warfield stays at halfback.

But Godfrey believes he has some help coming. Keith Smith, 6-3, 214, from Dayton, is an excellent pass receiver as well as a terrific punter. Dick Van Raaphorst, 6-1, 209, from Ligonier, Pa., is another.

As always, the yearling roster is dotted with youngsters who haven't been mentioned here, but who might be mentioned more as spring and fall practice progress.

"We'll have a good football team," Hayes nodded reassuringly after this brief rundown of prospects. And he went back to planning for spring practice.

Palmer Wins Mobile Open; Sets $ Mark

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Arnold Palmer now is the top all-time money winner on the PGA tournament tour for a single year — an objective he has long wished to achieve.

The 34-year-old shot maker from Ligonier, Pa., accomplished the cherished ambition Sunday by taking the Mobile Open Golf Tournament with one of his fabulous finishes just as he did the Masters and the Pensacola Open earlier this year.

The Mobile victory was worth $2,000. This brought his earnings on the official tournament circuit to $73,716.19 and surpassed the $72,835.83 figure set by Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in 1956.

In all, Palmer played in 25 tournaments this year. He won 8 of them and finished among the top five players 16 times. Sam Snead set the pro circuit record in 1950 when he took nine tournaments.

Sammy Oates, Hardin-Simmons athlete, has been chosen to participate in the international Deaf Olympics in Helsinki, Finland, next summer.

Ours Paced Wellsville In Scoring For 1960

Wellsville High chalked up one of the most successful campaigns in history (7-2-1) under the leadership of quarterback Roger Ours.

Season statistics compiled by Mike Wilson, team statistician, seem to bear out the vital role a quarterback plays in the success of any squad. The junior star completed 47.5 per cent of his passes, finished second in total rushing yardage, and emerged as the teams' top touchdown producer.

For the second straight year, halfback Dick Brown finished as Wellsville's top ground gainer, carrying 89 times for 678 yards—a 7.6 average per try. The senior halfback also scored eight touchdowns and three conversions.

Ours threw 82 passes, completed 39 and had only five intercepted. His favorite receiver was lanky senior end Bob Kiggans, who hauled in 22. Ours carried 91 times, gaining 523 yards. He was the team's top scorer with 11 touchdowns, and 10 conversions for 86 points—just four shy of the school record.

But the team eclipsed one record by scoring a total of 293 points for the season, while limiting the opposition to only 101. The old team scoring record was 240 points.

Los Angeles Can Take Western Title Sunday

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American Football Leagues Los Angeles Chargers can take the Western Division title next Sunday if they stay on their patented recovery formula.

The Chargers were belted a week ago by Buffalo 32-3, which caused coach Sid Gillman to point out that "the last time we were beaten badly we came back to win four straight and take the lead."

Sure enough, back they came Sunday, beating Oakland 52-28 to drop the Raiders into a second place tie with Dallas. The Chargers and Raiders go at it again next week, and a Los Angeles victory would insure at least a tie and eliminate Oakland. A victory, plus a Dallas defeat by Houston would clinch matters.

Buffalo blew a 24-point lead in the fourth quarter and were held to a 38-38 tie by the Denver Broncos. No other games were scheduled.

Old reliable Jack Kemp was the man who cranked up the Chargers and sent them on their way. He tossed scoring passes of 69 yards to Don Norton and 63 to Paul Lowe.

Lowe gained 149 yards from scrimmage and Kemp's scoring tosses were his 10th and 11th of the season.

Gene Mingo's 15-yard field goal in the final four seconds provided Denver with its tie, but some fancy passing by quarterback Frank Tripucka saved a lot of leg work. Trip hit his favorite target, Lionel Taylor, with three successive TD pass that sliced down a 38-14 Buffalo lead.

Taylor, hauled in aerials of 80, 25 and 35 yards.

Bill Atkins kicked field goals of 20, 13 and 31 yards while Elbert Dubenion's twisting, dodging 76 run was the highlight of Buffalo's attack, which seemingly had the game tucked away after a 21-point third period.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average near or a little below normal. Normal high 42 north to 45 south, normal low 28-30. Colder Tuesday and Wednesday, warmer Thursday and Friday, turning cooler Saturday. Precipitation will total about .4 inch in showers tonight, Tuesday and again about Friday or Saturday. Chance of snow flurries north and central Tuesday.

Michigan Awaits Record Road Bid

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan, already the nation's top road building state, will set a new national record Dec. 7 when it opens bids on projects totaling an estimated $45 million.

Ohio had a record $43,102,231 bid-letting session Dec. 15, 1959, and plans an opening Tuesday which will involve projects with a value of up to $31.9 million.

"It will be the largest contract letting ever held by a state highway department anywhere in the United States," said Michigan Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, in remarks prepared for today's opening of the 46th annual meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

More than 2,000 state highway officials from 50 states, including Ohio, Puerto Rico and Mexico are in Detroit for the convention, which ends Friday.

Not included in the $45 million contract figure, according to a Michigan Highway Department spokesman, is an estimated $15 million already spent on these projects for engineering and right of way costs.

U.N. Receives New Plan On 'Colonialism'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Asian and African nations, suspicious of Soviet Premier Khrushev's plan to end all colonialism at once, came up today with their own proposal for an end to foreign control of territories.

The clash promised to highlight a General Assembly debate on colonialism unless the Asian-African representatives change their proposal to meet the Soviets' at least halfway.

The Soviet Union has been wooing the newly independent nations of Asia and Africa since Khrushchev visited the assembly during its opening weeks. The Soviet delegation asked for the debate so it could sound off against colonialism in terms it hoped the new nations wanted to hear.

The 46-nation Asian - African group prepared a resolution calling for "immediate steps" to transfer power to colonies from their former rulers, not quite the same as having the colonies shuck off foreign rule at once.

Among the colonies listed by the Soviets were Puerto Rico, an island commonwealth associated with the United States; Okinawa, the Japanese island now ruled by the United States because it is the site of a big Far Eastern base, and Formosa, seat of President Chiang Kai-Shek's U. S.-supported Chinese Nationalist regime.

The U. S. position in agreeing to the debate is that it could allow for a full discussion of Soviet control of the Communist nations of Eastern Europe.

3 Tavern Owners Seek Dismissal Of Charges

WEIRTON — Motions to quash warrants were filed by attorneys for three city tavern owners facing charges of illegal possession of alcohol today in Municipal Court.

Judge Norman Ferrari Jr. said he will study the motions filed on behalf of George Reveaut, Raymond Lemsky and Ann Myers, whose hearings were postponed four times since their arrests several months ago.

The judge said he will rule soon on the motions to quash the warrants filed by city police. The three tavern owners have not entered pleas to the charges.

6 Arrested In Weirton On Blue Law Violations

WEIRTON—Hearings are scheduled Wednesday in Municipal Court for six employes of two city stores arrested Sunday and charged with violation of the city code prohibiting business operations on Sundays.

Ohio Counts 21 Dead Over Long Holiday

Traffic	21
Fire	2
Miscellaneous	3

By The Associated Press

At least 21 persons died in Ohio traffic accidents over the 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday period, from 6 p.m. Wednesday through midnight Sunday.

The fifth largest state in the nation, population - wise, ranked among the top six states in number of traffic fatalities.

Although the Ohio toll was not something to be thankful for, it did show that the state's motorists could drive more safely over a holiday than during a similar period of time two weeks ago with no holiday involved.

For purpose of comparison, The Associated Press tabulated highway deaths in Ohio from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, through Sunday, Nov. 13, and counted 26 fatalities.

Only one multiple fatality traffic accident was recorded in the state during the holiday period. Two boys died when their motor scooter was hit by a car in Morrow County.

In addition to the traffic slaughter, two small children perished in a fire that destroyed their Monroe County home, and three persons were killed in miscellaneous accidents.

The AP tabulation does not include holiday period deaths resulting from accidents prior to the start of the period. Nor does it include deaths that occur after the period ends, even if they result from accidents during the holiday.

The latest fatalities included:

Saturday

Mrs. Martha M. Bell, 28, Massillon, when the car in which she was riding failed to make a curve there and smashed into a tree.

Wilburn D. Robinson, 50, Bedford, when the car in which he was riding struck a parked auto in Shaker Heights, Cleveland suburb.

Michael Nakoff, 49, Lynchburg, when his car went off Ohio 251, rebounded off a tree and struck a bridge near St. Martin in Brown County.

Adam S. Yoakum, 80, Blue Ash, of injuries received Thanksgiving Day when the car in which he was riding hit a tree along U.S. 42 at Mason in Warren County.

Thomas Grohol, 45, Mansfield, when his car hit a bridge on Ohio 603 in Shiloh, Richland County, flipped over into a stream bed and burst into flames.

Clement Hudson, 40, Cleveland, when his car went off Ohio 71, east of Medina, somersaulted for about 1,000 feet, rolled down a 40-foot embankment and caught fire.

Mrs. Rose Pollard, 65, Cincinnati, hit by a car while crossing a street there.

Glen Michael Jeffers, 17, Mason, W. Va., of injuries received Friday when he fell 25 feet to the ground from a tree he was climbing in Middleport, Meigs County.

Sunday

Mrs. Donald Bette Ruch, 37, Bay Village, when her car went across a sidewalk and lawn and rammed under a porch and into the basement of a house in Cleveland.

Mrs. Manola Armstrong, 49, of near Waverly, passenger in an auto involved in a three-car collision on U.S. 23 about a mile south of Chillicothe.

U.N. Receives New Plan On 'Colonialism'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Asian and African nations, suspicious of Soviet Premier Khrushev's plan to end all colonialism at once, came up today with their own proposal for an end to foreign control of territories.

The clash promised to highlight a General Assembly debate on colonialism unless the Asian-African representatives change their proposal to meet the Soviets' at least halfway.

The Soviet Union has been wooing the newly independent nations of Asia and Africa since Khrushchev visited the assembly during its opening weeks. The Soviet delegation asked for the debate so it could sound off against colonialism in terms it hoped the new nations wanted to hear.

The 46-nation Asian-African group prepared a resolution calling for "immediate steps" to transfer power to colonies from their former rulers, not quite the same as having the colonies shuck off foreign rule at once.

Among the colonies listed by the Soviets were Puerto Rico, an island commonwealth associated with the United States; Okinawa, the Japanese island now ruled by the United States because it is the site of a big Far Eastern base, and Formosa, seat of President Chiang Kai-Shek's U. S.-supported Chinese Nationalist regime.

The U. S. position in agreeing to the debate is that it could allow for a full discussion of Soviet control of the Communist nations of Eastern Europe.

County Yule Seal Sale Increases To $8,401

LISBON —A total of $8,401.25, representing about 25 per cent of the goal, has been collected in the Christmas Seal drive in the townships of Columbiana County, according to Miss Lillian Schroeder, executive director of the Columbiana County Public Health League.

Butler and Knox, $331.50 ($1,000); Center, $588.50 ($1,400); Elkrun, $51 ($200); Fairfield, $866.75 ($3,300); Franklin and Wayne, $47 ($200); Hanover, $189 ($650); Liverpool and St. Clair $2,203.30 ($9,225).

Ohio Counts 21 Dead Over Long Holiday

Traffic	21
Fire	2
Miscellaneous	3

By The Associated Press

At least 21 persons died in Ohio traffic accidents over the 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday period, from 6 p.m. Wednesday through midnight Sunday.

The fifth largest state in the nation, population - wise, ranked among the top six states in number of traffic fatalities.

Although the Ohio toll was not something to be thankful for, it did show that the state's motorists could drive more safely over a holiday than during a similar period of time two weeks ago with no holiday involved.

For purpose of comparison, The Associated Press tabulated highway deaths in Ohio from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, through Sunday, Nov. 13, and counted 26 fatalities.

Only one multiple fatality traffic accident was recorded in the state during the holiday period. Two boys died when their motor scooter was hit by a car in Morrow County.

In addition to the traffic slaughter, two small children perished in a fire that destroyed their Monroe County home, and three persons were killed in miscellaneous accidents.

The AP tabulation does not include holiday period deaths resulting from accidents prior to the start of the period. Nor does it include deaths that occur after the period ends, even if they result from accidents during the holiday.

The latest fatalities included:

Saturday

Mrs. Martha M. Bell, 28, Massillon, when the car in which she was riding failed to make a curve there and smashed into a tree.

Wilburn D. Robinson, 50, Bedford, when the car in which he was riding struck a parked auto in Shaker Heights, Cleveland suburb.

Michael Nakoff, 49, Lynchburg, when his car went off Ohio 251, rebounded off a tree and struck a bridge near St. Martin in Brown County.

Adam S. Yoakum, 80, Blue Ash, of injuries received Thanksgiving Day when the car in which he was riding hit a tree along U.S. 42 at Mason in Warren County.

Thomas Grohol, 45, Mansfield, when his car hit a bridge on Ohio 603 in Shiloh, Richland County, flipped over into a stream bed and burst into flames.

Clement Hudson, 40, Cleveland, when his car went off Ohio 71, east of Medina, somersaulted for about 1,000 feet, rolled down a 40-foot embankment and caught fire.

Mrs. Rose Pollard, 65, Cincinnati, hit by a car while crossing a street there.

Glen Michael Jeffers, 17, Mason, W. Va., of injuries received Friday when he fell 25 feet to the ground from a tree he was climbing in Middleport, Meigs County.

Sunday

Mrs. Donald Bette Ruch, 37, Bay Village, when her car went across a sidewalk and lawn and rammed under a porch and into the basement of a house in Cleveland.

Mrs. Manola Armstrong, 49, of near Waverly, passenger in an auto involved in a three-car collision on U.S. 23 about a mile south of Chillicothe.

Second Trial Opened In Man's Cutting Case

The second criminal trial of Frank Bookman, 20, of East Liverpool, charged with cutting with intent to wound, started this morning before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard at Lisbon.

Bookman was arrested following a fight Aug. 20 at Miner's Tavern in Kensington. The first trial ended Oct. 22 in a hung jury after four hours' deliberation.

After the new panel was selected this morning, they went to visit the tavern.

INVEST WITH AN EYE TO THE FUTURE

A 3 or 4 family brick income property located on Rt. 30 just across the bridge with large potential. There is 120 frontage on the lot, and it can be remodeled to make several apartments. Someone with ambition can remodel this and raise the income to 3 or 4 hundred per month. The total price is $15,000.00.

A widower who owns a double, 1 story, home on AMBROSE AVE. is unable to take care of the property, and says SELL. This is as nice an income property as you'll find in East Liverpool, but it does need some one to take care of it. Both sides are one story, and the home and location are only 1 block from McKinley school and a grocery store, and still within walking distance to town. You can make the downpayment and let the income pay the balance. Asking price is $8,000.00, but will consider somewhat less for a fast sale.

A 1 story, 7 room duplexed home on SPRING GROVE AVE. in Pleasant Heights. Seperate gas and electric meters, double garage, and full basement. Live in one half and let the income from the other side help with your payments. $15,500.00.

INVEST
FUTURE

A 3 or 4 family brick income property located on Rt. 30 just across the bridge with large potential. There is 120 frontage on the lot, and it can be remodeled to make several apartments. Someone with ambition can remodel this and raise the income to 3 or 4 hundred per month. The total price is $15,000.00.

A widower who owns a double, 1 story, home on AMBROSE AVE. is unable to take care of the property, and says SELL. This is as nice an income property as you'll find in East Liverpool, but it does need some one to take care of it. Both sides are one story, and the home and location are only 1 block from McKinley school and a grocery store, and still within walking distance to town. You can make the downpayment and let the income pay the balance. Asking price is $8,000.00, but will consider somewhat less for a fast sale.

A 1 story, 7 room duplexed home on SPRING GROVE AVE. in Pleasant Heights. Seperate gas and electric meters, double garage, and full basement. Live in one half and let the income from the other side help with your payments. $15,500.00.

Snow Sweeps Into Midwest

By The Associated Press

Tornadic winds, thundertorms, blinding dust and swirling snow drove across the Great Plains as autumn's most severe storm moved eastward into the Mississippi Valley today.

The storm center whirled out of the Rocky Mountains into northern Kansas Sunday.

South of the front, gusty winds from the Gulf of Mexico sent the mercury to record heights for the season. Shirt-leeved citizens enjoyed Sunday outings.

As the front advanced, icy winds from the northwest tumbled temperatures and drove blinding snow from Colorado into Nebraska and northwest Kansas. Snow depths had reached four inches early today.

The sharp contrast kicked up severe thunderstorms in Kansas, where a tornado flicked across the edge of Concordia, a town of 7,100. Several buildings were damaged, power lines and trees were knocked down.

The belt of heavy snow extended from northeast Colorado across southwestern Nebraska. Four inches were reported at Akron, Colo., and Chadron, Neb.; three inches at Scottsbluff, Neb. Driven by winds up to 40 m.p.h., the snow cut visibility to zero.

Court Weighs 'Confession' In Drug Trial

CLEVELAND (AP)—The second child neglect trial of Mrs. Lillian Fratantonio resumes today. And the fight continues over admission as evidence of an alleged confession by the defendant that she fed barbiturates to her two "sleeping beauty" daughters.

Mrs. Anthony Lariche, mother of the petite 29-year-old Mrs. Fratantonio, was expected to be among today's witnesses. Defense attorneys Leonard J. Krajewski and James J. McNamara also indicated they may ask the defendant's husband, Vincent, to testify in an attempt to prove that his wife's statement was given to police involuntarily and under duress.

The Juvenile Court jury of six men and six women was excused when arguments on admissibility of the statement started Wednesday. Mrs. Fratantonio claimed from the witness stand that police pressured her into making the statement while she was confined at St. Ann Hospital Aug. 13 after the birth of her fifth child.

Portions of the statement which were read showed that Mrs. Fratantonio had admitted feeding sleep inducting drugs to her daughters—Bernadette, 3, and Venita, 5—which kept them in a state of virtual suspended animation for long periods.

The mother told Krajewski and Osborne she had made no such admission, but instead had denied drugging her daughters.

The trial started last Monday. Mrs. Fratantonio's first trial in September was declared a mistrial because of the illness of Presiding Judge Margaret J. Spellacy, which proved fatal three weeks ago. Judge Albert A. Woldman is presiding at the present trial.
